Trump is first US President to be impeached twice

He now faces a trial in Senate; if convicted, he could be barred from holding office

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE

JUST eight days before he is slated to leave office, Donald Trump earned the dubious distinction of becoming the first American president to be impeached twice, with 10 of his fellow Republicans joining the Democrats in the House of Representatives to charge him with "incitement of insurrection" for his role in provoking his supporters to storm the US Capitol on January 6.

Trump will now face a trial in the Senate where, if convicted, he could be barred from holding office ever again. The Democrats will need 17 Republican votes in the 100-member Senate as a two-thirds majority is required in the Upper House of the US Congress to convict and impeach the president.

However, Trump will not have to quit the White House before his term ends as the Senate is adjourned till January 19, a day before Joe Biden takes oath as the 46th President of the United States.

The Democratic-controlled House on Wednesday impeached Trump by 232 to 197 votes after an impassioned debate. The House went ahead with the move after Vice President Mike Pence on Tuesday refused to invoke the 25th Amendment to remove Trump from office. Those who voted in favour of the impeachment included the House's No. 3 Republican, Liz Cheney, as well as all four Indian-American Democratic members — Ami Bera, Ro Khanna, Raja Krishnamoorthi and Pramila Jayapal. PM to unveil vaccine drive at 10.30 am tomorrow

@ New Delhi

PRIME Minister Narendra Modi will launch the much-awaited Covid-19 vaccination programme at 3,006 designated centres across the country at 10.30 am on Saturday.

"This will be the world's largest vaccination programme covering the entire length and breadth of the country and all preparations are in place to initiate the programme on the principles of Jan Bhagidari," the Prime Minister's Office said in a statement. "A total of 3,006 session sites across all states and UTs will be virtually connected during the launch and around 100 beneficiaries will be vaccinated at each session site on the first day," it added.

The Centre also released a rulebook for the vaccine rollout to all the states and UTs, listing the do's and don'ts which say minors (under-18), pregnant women and lactating mothers should not be given the shots.

Health workers in both government and private sectors, including anganwadi workers, will receive the vaccine during the first phase. As per the details shared, at every centre, 100 healthcare workers have been registered for inoculation on the first day at each centre. However, the government fears that the actual count of people who take the jab may be far lower, owing to "vaccine hesitation".

"Over 3 lakh people are being sent messages to receive their vaccines on Day 1 at the designated centres. But it won't be surprising if lesser than expected number of beneficiaries turn up," said a senior official. P9

Bengaluru's Victoria Hospital, will start non-Covid services from Monday, over 10 months after they were closed in March 2020 amidst the pandemic. Group D, sanitation staff will get first shot in state

RANJANI MADHAVAN @Bengaluru

THE first person to get the jab in Karnataka on the inaugural day of the vaccination programme on January 16 will be a sanitation worker/Group-D employee. This is to recognise the efforts of people on the ground who helped in the fight against Covid-19, according to Health Commissioner Pankaj Kumar Pandey.

This was mentioned in an internal document related to a meeting held by the Health Department with district deputy commissioners on January 13. The health care workers will include persons above 20 years age, preferably without co-morbidity, on the inaugural day.

"Health workers, including all cadres in the facility, should be vaccinated on the inaugural day. A maximum of 100 beneficiaries per facility on the day of inauguration is planned. The health facility should prepare a list of selected beneficiaries with name and designation and share with district RCH officers," the document reads.

There are nine categories of health care workers including frontline and ICDS workers, nurses and supervisors, medical officers, paramedical staff, support staff, students, scientists and research staff, clerical and administrative staff and other health staff.

Farmer leader recuses from SC committee

HARPREET BAJWA @Chandigarh

FARMER union leader Bhupinder Singh Mann on Thursday recused himself from the four-member committee set up by the Supreme Court to resolve the stalemate over the agri laws in the wake of the allegations that the panel was "pro-government".

Mann said he was "thankful to the SC for nominating me in the four-member committee". However, he added, "As a farmer myself and a union leader, in view of the prevailing sentiments and apprehensions amongst the farm unions and the public in general, I am ready to sacrifice any position offered or given to me so as to not compromise the interests of Punjab and farmers of the country. TAKE YOUR COMPLAINTS TO DELHI, CM TELLS DISSENTERS

G SUBHASH CHANDRA
@ Davanagere

A day after expanding his cabinet, Chief Minister B S Yediyurappa, who was brimming with confidence on Thursday, hit back at the disgruntled legislators. He advised them to take up their issues with the central leadership and not embarrass the party and the state government by making public statements.

Addressing the media at the GMIT helipad in the city, he stressed that he had the full backing of the party top leadership. Dissenting legislators can take their complaint to the Delhi leaders, who will decide on it, he remarked in a warning tone. He also said that he has no objecting to MLAs lodging complaints against him with the top brass.

"I have no fear of any CD. The cabinet was expanded as per the directions of the BJP national leadership. All the options were weighed before the expansion was taken up and the best interests of the party have been safeguarded. As per the directions of high command, one berth is still kept vacant," the CM noted.

MLA makes vow for BSY as CM, gets govt to pay for it

MANJU SHETTAR @ Bengaluru

HOW about the government fulfilling your vow to a deity? For commoners, it's next to impossible, but not for Mudigere MLA M P Kumaraswamy. The government has even gone ahead and granted a whopping ₹25 lakh to fulfil his vow as a 'special case'.

In his letter to the CM, Kumaraswamy stated that he had taken a vow in 2019 that he would donate a wooden chariot to the Kalanatheshwara Temple in Palguni village and take up rejuvenation of the Bhairaveshwara temple in Betagere if Yediyurappa becomes the CM.

And where will the money come from? The MLA conveniently requested Yediyurappa to sanction ₹35 lakh to fulfil his vows — ₹30 lakh for the Kalanatheshwara temple and ₹5 lakh for the Bhairaveshwara temple, both in his constituency.

The Chief Minister has considered the request and instructed the Additional Chief Secretary, Revenue Department, to treat it as a 'special case' and sanction ₹25 lakh to Kalanatheshwara temple.

Speaking to The New Indian Express, the beaming MLA said, "I had taken a personal vow before Yediyurappa became the CM. Thus, I had requested him (CM) to sanction grants to fulfil the vows. I even thanked him on Thursday for sanctioning ₹25 lakh and posted it on social media to bring it to the notice of the people of my constituency as it was good news for Sankranthi".

METRO'S AIRPORT LINE GETS GREEN SIGNAL

Cabinet likely to clear the 56-km Metro line in two-three months, says BMRCL; project to cost Rs 14K crore

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @Bengaluru

UNION Urban Affairs and Aviation Minister Hardeep Singh Puri said on Thursday that the 56-km Outer Ring Road line to Bengaluru's Kempegowda International Airport had been finalised by the Urban Affairs Ministry and sent to the Public Investment Board (PIB) for clearance. The State government had given administrative approval in January 2019.

Speaking after launching the first section of Metro's Phase-II, a 6.29-km elevated line between Yelachenahalli and Silk Institute, he said, "The Department of Expenditure has given in-principle approval. My ministry has finalised the memorandum and sent it to the PIB," he said.

Bangalore Metro Rail Corporation Limited Managing Director Ajay Seth told the media that the PIB would send it to the Cabinet after it is approved. "We expect it to be cleared in two-three months," he said. The Airport project, estimated to cost Rs 14,844 crore, comprises two phases: Central Silk Board to K R Puram (Phase 2A) and K R Puram to Kempegowda International Airport (Phase 2B).

Commending Bengaluru Metro, Puri said, "The daily passenger boarding was 5.3 lakh pre-Covid. Operational punctuality is 99.8%, which is one of the best in the country. The first coach of every train is reserved for women, who constitute 29% of ridership."

The cost of the extended Reach-4B Line was Rs 1,590 crore, of which land acquisition cost Rs 340 crore. "It is expected to give an incremental ridership of 1.85 lakh in 2021, increasing to 2.32 lakh in 2031. It will spur economic activity along the Metro line," he said, adding that LED lights and roof-top solar lights will be installed before March.

Ajay Seth said the Mysuru Road-Kengeri Line will be operational by June 2021 while the Electronics City (R V Road to Bommasandra) and Whitefield Line (Baiyappanahalli to Visvesvaraya Industrial Layout) will be ready by end-2022.

CM Yediyurappa said, "Bengaluru is a key IT hub and its public transport is the key factor in rejuvenating economic activities. Within two years, 30km of Metro line would be added. By 2022, the State will target 75 km of Metro line to mark our 75th Independence Day."

Trio hops on to trial Metro for joy ride

MEGHANA SASTRY AND S LALITHA @ Bengaluru

THE first Metro which was flagged off from Konanakunte Cross to Silk Institute brought along a surprise -- three first-day, first-show enthusiasts who got into a train on a trial run. They enjoyed their ride on the empty train, taking pictures and admiring the new stations, but were in for a rude shock when they reached their destination. A Metro official at Silk Institute was shocked to see the three men hopping out and ordered them to leave. They ended up returning to their starting point by bus!

TNIE was given exclusive access to board a train carrying out trial runs. While a blogger got into the train with the Express team, the three friends, who work with multinational firms, coolly got on board too. Since the Automatic Fare Collection gates were kept open for the inaugural function, there was nothing to restrain them.

Express caught up with the three passengers after boarding from Platform 2. A Manoj, systems developer and a resident of Thalaghattapura, said, "I used to take my two-wheeler up to Yelachenahalli and head to my office in Baiyappanahalli. From Friday, I will board my train at Thalaghattapura." Manoj has taken the first Baiyappanahalli-MG Road Metro and Magadi Road-Cubbon Park Metro. "Passengers are allowed on the first train, so I assumed we could board it," he said.

R Vivek, product manager with a top firm, said, "My ride was good but the ending was not. I came to enjoy the first ride. We were let off by Metro officials and took a bus back. I regularly travel from Yelachenahalli to Jayanagar."

G S Puneeth, from BTM Layout, makes it a point to travel on the first train and did so this time too. "I came for the first-day experience. The way our trip ended was a minor matter."

The Metro official, though, was upset and termed it a serious security breach. "I don't know who they are and why they are on board this train. Passengers are allowed only from tomorrow. Who allowed them to enter?" he asked his staff angrily. He made a flurry of calls and allowed them to leave.

MISSION 2020

Turahalli forest to be made Tree Park

BOSKY KHANNA @Bengaluru

THE Turahalli state and minor forest seems to be paying the price for the government's planning. This time, to achieve Chief Minister B S Yediyurappa's flagship Bengaluru Mission 2022 programme.

The state government has announced the creation of tree parks under the Mission, and has identified Turahalli forest to be made a part of the tree park. To abide by the government's orders, Karnataka forest department officials have started to survey places which can be demarcated to create a tree park.

Already, a portion of the Turahalli forest has been opened up to people by creating a walking space and a canopy. Parts of the forest have also been encroached.

Due to this development, many MLAs have been approaching the forest department with requests to use such forest patches to create lung spaces in cities and districts they represent. "Demarcating a portion of the state and minor forest into a tree park, will further reduce the existing natural lung space. However, we are also convinced that the presence of people will help in better vigilance and ensure there are no untoward activities or encroachment. Also, creation of tree parks will have no effect on the status of Turahalli. It will still remain a state and minor forest," a senior forest department official told The New Indian Express.

"The idea of a tree park must be to create more lung spaces and not tamper with existing ones. The government has forgotten its earlier order that land fills should be converted into tree parks. In only one case has the BBMP has implemented it"
Hari K, Kanakpura Road resident

The official added that the survey was being done to ensure that only areas where there is no wildlife movement and where wildlife would not affected are chosen. "Already, many instances of man-animal conflict are being reported and we do not want any more untoward incidents. Doraiswamipalya butterfly park is a classic example, where with people's involvement, a dying lung space was protected and became a butterfly park," the official said.

Meanwhile, citizens and other forest department officials have expressed their displeasure. They questioned the point of converting an existing forest into a tree park. "The idea and meaning of a tree park must be to create more lung spaces and not tamper with existing and notified ones. The government has forgotten its earlier order that land fills should be converted into tree parks. In only one case has BBMP has implemented it," said Hari K, a Kanakpura Road resident said.

Community comes together for Sankranti celebration

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @Bengaluru

WHILE the pandemic has cast a pall of gloom over festival celebrations since March last year, Sankranti and Pongal festivities at Vinoba Nagar in Kadugondanahalli on Thursday reflected the community spirit of the harvest festival.

Makara Sankranti and Pongal were celebrated by Vinoba Nagar's residents with aplomb. About 100 people gathered to celebrate the festival which is also dedicated to the Sun god Surya. They set up small cooking fires on the road to prepare pongal — a dish made of rice cooked in milk and jaggery.

"This is the first festival in 2021 and marks the year of hope. So we decided not to celebrate the festival at home, but make it a low-key affair and celebrate it with others. The women of the neighbourhood gathered and decided to cook pongal by lighting small fires and sharing it with each other. Not just us, the children too enjoyed it," said Padma, a resident.

The festival spirit, albeit low key, was visible in other parts of Bengaluru too. Homes were decorated and families invited relatives and friends.

While some markets did see many shoppers, some said that the crowds were thinner than in previous years due to the pandemic. "We expected a grand sale this year, after the lull last year. But the situation has not improved. It seems customers are still being cautious and are making limited purchases," said K Kumar, a vendor in Malleswaram.

Daily Starscope

PETER VIDAL

15th January : We used to think deep space was empty. Like me, you probably learnt at school it's a vacuum, and that there's nothing there. Well, technically, that's true. It is a vacuum, but that doesn't mean it's empty. Astrologers long ago worked out it was made of a substance they called ether. Scientists have now caught up and have decided it's made of 'Higg's Bosons'. The next question is 'what is a Higg's Boson made of?'

ARIES (Mar 21 - Apr. 20)
The Moon's entry into a lively region of your chart could come as a welcome relief. You should feel more in control of home and family affairs than may have been the case in the recent past, although financial matters remain dodgy. It may be a partner who is unreliable, but it might also be your judgement that slides.

TAURUS (Apr. 21 - May 21)
This is very much a time to behave like a true Taurean - resolute, responsible and keen to retain all that is best from the past. However, please be very aware that at particular moments you will be obliged to compromise. So, you'd better start looking for an escape route.

GEMINI (May 22 - June 21)
There does seem to be a real chance that the emotional strain of the current times will have an adverse effect on your health. Bearing in mind that astrology deals with prevention rather than cure, don't let this week's irritating stresses and strains get to you.

CANCER (June 22 - July 23)
Your lunar alignments remind you of the importance of professional activities and ambitions. In some strange way, work may be a means for you to provide yourself with emotional security, or a feeling that you have a genuine role in the world.

LEO (July 24 - Aug. 23)
A number of long-term commitments may have come under increased scrutiny, but that's no reason to walk away from a responsibility. It may be more useful to you to stick around for a while and see exactly what can be worked out. Partners may be prepared to do more than their fair share - if you ask nicely.

VIRGO (Aug. 24 - Sept. 23)
Mercury is still exerting a powerful pull over your sign, and will do so for another eight weeks. This is an indication of celestial protection which should see you recover from current battles and pass unscathed through the next two months' worth of ups and downs.

LIBRA (Sept. 24 - Oct. 23)
Although the celestial relationship between Mars and the Sun is placing you under personal pressure, others are barking up the wrong tree if they imagine they can out-manoeuvre you. Conciliation is the key, but only you have the instinctive sense of what needs to be said - and done.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24 - Nov. 22)
A family or domestic matter may be settling down, but professional Scorpios are not out of the woods just yet. Remember one piece of vital advice: a good general never starts a battle that can't be won. The struggle you're facing, though, should be a war of words.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23 - Dec. 22)
Personally and emotionally, things are likely to remain uncertain, partly because others are vacillating and unwilling to make a decent commitment. Even those who do make arrangements are liable to break them! That's why you should keep your options open.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 23 - Jan. 20)
If you use finances as a bait, you could be taking a big risk. Either other people may accept you at face value, or you may let yourself in for commitments you can't keep. Put home and family first, for it's the people who know you best who will stick by you.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 - Feb. 19)
Venus, planet of love, is approaching a single degree of your solar chart which denotes your relationships. You should therefore feel only optimism for the future, no matter what current events suggest; if you hope for the best then the best is more likely to happen.

PISCES (Feb. 20 - Mar 20)
Self-knowledge is a Piscean speciality and you have a rare and remarkable understanding of what must be done. Deep down you know that the time has come to sever one particular tie or association and concentrate on another which seems to have more meaning.

VICTORIA HOSPITAL TO RESUME NON-COVID SERVICES FROM MONDAY

To restart 10 months after closure; hospital caters to 11 lakh people across state

CHETANA BELAGERE @Bengaluru

BENGALURU'S largest government clinical facility, Victoria Hospital, will start non-covid services from Monday, over 10 months after they were closed in March 2020 due to the pandemic.

Dr C R Jayanti, Dean of Bangalore Medical College and Research Institute (BMCRI), to which Victoria Hospital is affiliated, said, "We have been preparing to open non-Covid services for the past two months, but we had to ensure that the hospital is prepared to restart them. The safety of every patient is important to us. We will restart the services from Monday."

It can be noted that recently, resident doctors had protested against the closure of tertiary care services for non-Covid patients at the hospital.

The services were shut on March 26 as the hospital was designated as a Covid-19 facility. Covid patient numbers began to fall during the last two months but the hospital was still not seeing any non-Covid patients 10 months after regular services were shut. This had irked many patients and resident doctors too.

Victoria Hospital is one of the major tertiary care hospitals in the city and caters to patients from all over the State. With services being closed, nearly 11 lakh patients were hit. Each day, the hospital sees nearly 2,000 outpatient cases and about 100 surgeries.

Dr Jayanthi said that the surgeries and other departments will also open on Monday.

"We were preparing for a possible second wave, but at the same time, we will also ensure that non-Covid services are not hit. We have set up everything towards this end, and fumigated and disinfected the hospital and operation theatres. The culture sample reports have also come negative. So we will go ahead with surgeries too," she said.

Meanwhile, PG students who have been missing out on practical classes are relieved that non-Covid services will resume.

However, they are also worried about safety measures and preparedness of the hospital for a possible second wave of Covid -19 infections.

"We are the worst-hit students in the entire country, I must say. We are also at risk of qualifying with inadequate skills if we further delay resuming non-Covid services. Though we have been told that the services will start from Monday, we don't see any arrangements made for our safety," said a student from the Resident Doctors' Association, on condition of anonymity.

The resident doctor was apprehensive about whether or not patient interview tables would be readied with glass separators, proper screening of patients etc.

IMMUNISATION

Pulse Polio drive to be held on Jan 31

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @Bengaluru

THE Union Health Ministry has said that the national polio immunisation programme which was deferred, has been rescheduled to January 31. It was supposed to be begin from January 17.

The decision was communicated to the states in a letter dated January 14. The letter said that the massive country-wide Covid-19 vaccination drive will be rolled out by Prime Minister Narendra Modi from 16 January, 2021.

"This would be world's largest immunisation exercise. Therefore, it has been decided by the Ministry of Health and Family Welfare (MoHFW) in consultation with the office of the President of India to reschedule the Polio vaccination day, also known as "Polio Ravivar" to 31 January.

The letter also stated that Modi will launch the Polio National Immunisation Day on January 30 by administering polio vaccine drops to some children at Rashtrapati Bhawan at 11.45 am.

The decision is in keeping with the stated policy of the Health Ministry to ensure that Covid management and vaccination services and non-Covid essential health services proceed in tandem, the letter said.

As V-Day nears, conmen target elderly

POLICE and Health Department officials have urged the public, especially the elderly, to be wary of fraudsters who ask for bank account information on the pretext of accessing the Covid vaccine.

A senior police officer who requested anonymity, said that messages claiming to be from the 'Drug Authority of India' are sent to people telling them their vaccine allocation is ready. The message asks the person to confirm their Aadhaar number, using which they initiate a bank transfer. The bank would then send an OTP to the phone number which the scamsters would ask for, claiming that it was part of the initiation of the vaccine allocation process. Using the OTP, fraudsters access people's bank accounts, the officer said.

Health Minister Dr K Sudhakar has also urged people to be wary of such scams. "Already, fake apps on Google PlayStore and other platforms claiming to be the government-owned Co-Win app are doing the rounds. There is no such app and no messages seeking any details of the public have been sent (by the government). The Union Ministry will give out information as and when required," Sudhakar said.

Both the Centre and State governments have repeatedly said that the vaccine will be first administered to health care workers and frontline staff.

After health and frontline staff are vaccinated, people above 50 and those below 50 who have comorbidities would get the jab. "But even for this, the government will make proper announcements and procedures will also be specified for registration.

People should not fall prey to messages coming from just any kind of platform," the health minister said.

According to data available from the Central health ministry, after the app is launched, people will be able to see different modules on the platform.

They can choose between self-registration, individual and bulk registration to get in line for vaccination.

A senior police officer also said that at present, vaccines are allowed to be sold or administered only in places designated by the government.

Hence, people claiming to be vaccinators, or sellers of vaccines should not be believed.

Dry run revealed challenges

TAKING note of the observations during the dry run, the document stated that adrenaline vials in anaphylaxis kits were beyond the expiry date at three session sites. At three other sites, vaccinators were not aware of the process to be followed in case of a serious Adverse Event Following Immunization (AEFI). In five sites, vaccination booth members were not trained. Physical distancing was not ensured in three sites and blue puncture-proof containers were not available in two sites. Ice packs in vaccine carriers were also not conditioned at two sites.

The district-wise vaccine distribution plan stats that one health facility will receive only one type of vaccine. The database of frontline workers on the Co-WIN software will be frozen on the midnight of January 25.

Wooed by concessions, investors go North

Electronics goods cluster, packaging unit to come up, create 20,000 jobs; gamechanger for N K'taka, says Shettar

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@Hubballi

THE cabinet sub-committee of the State government has given all necessary clearances for a Consumer Durable Electronics and Durable Goods (CEDG) cluster to be set up by Aequs SEZ Private Limited, and a packaging solutions unit by UFlex Limited. The companies are together investing around Rs 5,000 crore, and are likely to generate over 20,000 jobs.

Aequs is developing the CEDG cluster on 350 acres in the Itigatti-Gamanagatti area between Hubballi and Dharwad, with an investment of Rs 3,524 crore, and will create around 20,000 jobs. The cluster has the status of Special Economic Zone and provides plug-and-play infrastructure to other companies, both domestic and foreign. As many as 82 units are likely to be set up here.

Noida-based UFlex, India's largest multinational packaging company, will manufacture flexible packing film on around 50 acres of land in Mummigatti, on the outskirts of Dharwad. The company will invest around Rs 1,464 crore and operate throughout South India from here.

Large and Medium Scale Industries Minister Jagadish Shettar told TNIE that the cabinet sub-committee recently chaired by Chief Minister B S Yediyurappa cleared both investment proposals, for which the finance department had given its nod a few days ago. "Realising these investments will prove a gamechanger for Hubballi-Dharwad and North Karnataka," he added.

Apart from concessions and subsidies in the new industrial policy and SEZ norms, the State government has extended more benefits to Aequs, such as 25 per cent capital investment subsidy and 20 per cent for other companies investing there, besides deferring payment for land. The land, acquired by Karnataka Industrial Area Development Board, has been offered at a concessional rate.

The vision group has proposed some more concessions regarding tax, duty, subsidy and land prices for developing the labour-intensive cluster

Jagadish Shettar, Large & Medium Scale Industries Minister

Shettar noted that UFlex, which has manufacturing units in India, UAE, Mexico, Poland, Egypt and USA, wanted to set up its unit at Bengaluru for its South India operations, but opted for Dharwad after officials explained the benefits of investing in Tier-II cities. The unit will generate 900-1,000 direct jobs.

Land will soon be transferred to both companies which are in a hurry to start operations and are ready with their plans to build the necessary infrastructure, Shettar said.

FMCG cluster in pipeline

As per the recommendations of the vision group led by Ullas Kamat, the industries department submitted a proposal to the finance department for setting up a Fast Moving Consumer Goods (FMCG) cluster at Dharwad. A consortium of FMCG companies will invest about Rs 7,500 crore in three phases — Rs 2,500 crore in each phase — to generate over one lakh jobs.

Shettar said the vision group has proposed some more concessions regarding tax, duty, subsidy and land prices for developing the labour-intensive cluster. He was hopeful of convincing finance officials, with Additional Chief Secretary Gaurav Gupta taking up the issues with them next week.

CM allots ₹10cr grant for Panchamasali mutt

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@Davanagere

CHIEF Minister B S Yediyurappa on Thursday announced that a grant of Rs 10 crore will be released for the development of the Panchamasali Guru Peetha at Harihar, and the funds will be released within three or four days.

While speaking at the Hara Jatre programme in Harihar taluk, he said that the funds should be used for the uplift of the community and added that he would stand by the Panchamasali community.

Remembering the services of the community during the Independence struggle and development of the country post Independence, he said, "The community seer Vachananda Swamy has toured the length and breadth of the world and through his yoga, has gained lakhs of devotees, which is a great achievement for the community. This should be used effectively."

He added that the swami should work for the all-round development of the community. "The state government has set up a development corporation for the Veerashaiva Lingayat community and Rs 500 crore has been allocated for the purpose," he added.

He said the state government's move will help the socio-economic development of the community in the future.

Yediyurappa added that it was his government that gave 3B category to the Veerashaiva Panchamasali community and is taking them towards development slowly but steadily.

MINISTERS IN, NOW WAIT FOR PORTFOLIOS BEGINS

ASHWINI M SRIPAD @Bengaluru

SEVEN new ministers who took oath on Wednesday may have to wait for some time for their portfolios. Chief Minister BS Yediyurappa and the party are busy with Home Minister Amit Shah's visit to Karnataka this weekend.

The CM is also likely to wait till the situation calms down, as disgruntled MLAs are still showing their displeasure. Besides which, the CM was busy in Bengaluru and Davanagere on Thursday. Sources in the Chief Minister's Office (CMO) said that many ministers are keen on getting Power, Bengaluru Development and other portfolios now with Yediyurappa. "These cannot be given without discussion. It would add to the disgruntlement," said sources.

Umesh Katti

Rural Development and Panchayat Raj Minister KS Eshwarappa told TNIE that leaders are busy with Shah's visit and portfolio allocation is unlikely to happen before January 18. Asked if there will be a reshuffle of portfolios, he said anything can happen. "The CM and party leaders will decide and send the list to Delhi," he added.

The buzz is that Umesh Katti may get Power, MTB Nagaraj Housing, Aravind Limbavali Bengaluru Development, S Angara will get Kannada and Culture, and CP Yogeshwara will get Sports and Youth Services. Nagaraj, who was Housing Minister in the previous government, is said to be keen on the same post.

Sources said Murugesh Nirani, who was Industries Minister earlier, wants the same portfolio, which is now with Jagadish Shettar. Limbavali, who has served as Higher Education and Health Minister, is likely to ask for Bengaluru Development.

A senior BJP leader, on condition of anonymity, said this time it will be a challenge for the CM as there are very few important portfolios left.

R Shankar, who visited a temple in Mysuru, said the CM had assured him of giving a good portfolio when he had resigned from his assembly membership, and he is sure he will be given one.

Miffed BJP legislators to vent their woes when Shah arrives

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@Bengaluru

AS Home Minister Amit Shah's two-day visit to Karnataka draws closer, a host of BJP state unit leaders — especially MLAs — are all set to raise their concerns. Miffed over Chief Minister BS Yediyurappa's choice of ministerial berth faces, lack of fund allocation for constituencies and delay in developmental activities, several MLAs of the BJP are lobbying with senior leaders from within the State and Central executive team of the BJP to raise their concerns before the Home Minister. Shah will arrive on January 16 and visit at least five districts for various programmes, including Belagavi, where he will meet with party leaders. Phone lines of the BJP central executive team leaders have been busy since Wednesday with calls of dissenting state MLAs.

"Concerns of MLAs who have expressed displeasure over various issues will be raised for discussion when Amit Shah visits the state. All new seven ministers, of course, could have taken oath only with the Central leadership's approval but that is based on their own inputs. The MLAs believe they should be given a chance to appraise the leadership of issues at the ground level," said a national office-bearer of the party. Many MLAs, who were also cabinet aspirants, are keen on meeting the Central leadership with a special appointment in case Shah is busy during his tour to meet them.

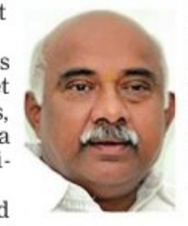
"The CM himself has said we should go to the Central leadership if we have concerns. We will do exactly that," said one of the cabinet aspirants who lost out in the race on Wednesday. Apart from cabinet picks, MLAs are also keen on highlighting the allegations of blackmail, corruption, nepotism against the CM. Tired of mudslinging against him, Yediyurappa on Wednesday advised angry party legislators to take their concerns to the Central leadership but refrain from washing dirty linen in public.

Mystery CD creates buzz, causes heartburn

BANSY KALAPPA @Bengaluru

A mystery CD has suddenly become the hot topic of conversation in political circles. Former Union Minister and dissident MLA from Vijayapura Basanagouda Patil Yatnal and MLC H Vishwanath, who switched to BJP from the JDS, have spoken about it, and even slammed Chief Minister B S Yediyurappa over it. Many angry BJP leaders refer to the CD "off the record" while criticising the state leadership.



MLA Basanagouda Patil Yatnal, (below) MLC H Vishwanath

Who has this CD, and what does it contain? At first, there was talk that it contained sexually explicit material, but that was later shot down.

Sources say that it is not just one CD, but a set of seven or eight CDs, and contain details of a top political family's financial dealings.

Reliable sources said the CDs were shot on the sly over a period of time by a person who worked with the family. While the contents are still secret, the family got wind of it and castigated the person, who attempted suicide, but is now out of danger. He has reportedly passed on the CDs to others. There is unconfirmed information about the contents and the identities of those involved, and also that it contains potentially dangerous dialogues and details of transactions recorded over a considerable period of time.

"There is a CD and it will soon become public," was all Vishwanath said when questioned. "It contains something." There are similar cryptic comments from other leaders too.

Yatnal said, "This has proven that there is a quota in the ministry not only for caste and regional equations, but also for CDs. Two of those who spoke about it have become ministers and one has become political secretary." He refused to divulge the names of the beneficiaries.

The identity of the men and women in it is being spoken about openly, and there is a fair degree of uniformity too. The Chief Minister, meanwhile, has neither hit back at Yatnal and Vishwanath, nor offered any explanation, though he has said that a probe can be set up into the mystery CDs.

CD politics

Political observers say that this is not the first time a CD has come to haunt Yediyurappa. About 18 months ago, a CD containing his conversation with JDS MLA Nagangouda Kandakur's son Sharangouda Patil Kandakur had surfaced, in which he had offered them money to switch to the BJP.

In 2017, ministers in the then Siddaramaiah government had put out a CD, purportedly containing a conversation clip between Yediyurappa and late Union Minister Ananth Kumar, about a fake bribe.

Shah of all battles: Dissidents, loyalists eagerly wait for Home Minister's visit

BANSY KALAPPA @Bengaluru

WHILE dissidents in the BJP have been spewing spiteful reminders that Home Minister Amit Shah's arrival on January 16 will help initiate certain changes in the State leadership, Chief Minister B S Yediyurappa's loyalists say that on the contrary, his coming will strengthen their leader's hands.

The dissidents are hoping to get an audience with Shah, to speak of their grouses against the CM. Yediyurappa's loyalists claim that Shah is visiting Bhadravathi in Yediyurappa's home district Shivamogga, to send home the message that the party's central leadership is strongly behind the Chief Minister.

Shah is also likely to hold a one-on-one meeting with Yediyurappa during his Bengaluru visit.

The loyalists say that when Yediyurappa flew to New Delhi last week to meet Shah and Party President JP Nadda, no other important leader from Karnataka was present.

They said the rival group's failed attempt to get Halappa Achar and chief whip Sunil Kumar into the cabinet shows its poor influence over the central leadership.

It is said that Yediyurappa and his loyalists have set up a team to cross-check misinformation being carried against the Chief Minister to the central leadership. This meant that many tales and truths carried to the central leadership have been exposed, and Yediyurappa's position has been strengthened.

Shah is due to arrive on Saturday, and leave on Sunday. He will participate in a few public functions, like the inaugural of Rapid Response Vehicles in Bengaluru and a road show in Belagavi.

H Vishwanath, who moved from the JDS to the BJP, but lost out on a berth, said he has sought time with Amit Shah. CM's political secretary MP Renukacharya, who is also unhappy, had rushed to Delhi to stake claim to a ministry.

DKS DEMANDS JUDICIAL PROBE INTO CHARGES

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@Bengaluru

THE Congress on Thursday demanded a judicial probe into allegations made by BJP legislators after the cabinet expansion on Wednesday and want it headed by a High Court judge.

"The CM can induct anyone into his cabinet and we do not have any objection, but the allegations made by the BJP legislators are serious and need to be probed," said KPCC president D K Shivakumar on Thursday.

Disgruntlement among BJP legislators came out in the open after seven new ministers were inducted into the cabinet on Wednesday. Some MLAs alleged that those who resorted to blackmail by using a CD, were inducted into the cabinet while loyal workers were ignored.

Shivakumar said the Income Tax Department, Enforcement Directorate, Anti-Corruption Burea, Lokayukta and other agencies should take note of allegations of blackmail and corruption and register a case as those allegations are made by former union and state ministers in the BJP. "Why are the IT, ED, ACB and Lokayukta not taking any action? They must register a suo moto case and start the probe," he said.

He said that BJP leaders who are discussing about the CD would be aware of its contents. "When I had mentioned about the CD earlier, BJP leaders asked me to provide information, now their own leaders are discussing about it. Let them take action," he added.

File police complaint to find truth: Siddu

Mysuru: Opposition leader Siddaramaiah has challenged Chief Minister B S Yediyurappa to file a complaint against those blackmailing him with a secret CD. "Only weak chief ministers can be blackmailed. Let him complain. Let those blackmailing be from any political party," he told media on Thursday. Siddaramaiah said he felt that there is some truth in the charges as they were levelled by Yediyurappa's own party men. "BJP MLAs have openly claimed that many BJP leaders got portfolios by blackmailing (the party) using a CD. The Congress has not made such charges. Let Yediyurappa lodge a complaint so that the truth comes out," he said. ENS

CM needs to reply to allegations: Khader

Mangaluru: Congress leader UT Khader on Thursday demanded a clarification from CM BS Yediyurappa and BJP state chief Nalin Kumar Kateel on allegations from disgruntled BJP MLAs that blackmail, money, and secret CDs were used to obtain ministerial berths. Khader referred to Karkala MLA V Sunil Kumar's tweet which said that 'he did not blackmail anyone to get the post' and Basavaraj Patil Yatnal's statement that 'under money and secret CD quota, the CM offered cabinet berths' and said that the CM owes a clarification regarding such statements. "If someone insults the PM, only then it's anti-national. Is insulting the CM not anti-national?" he asked. ENS

'Yogeshwar raised ₹9 crore loan to unite MLAs'

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Belagavi

OPERATION Lotus, which helped the BJP come to power in Karnataka with the help of 17 legislators of other parties, no doubt saw crores of rupees changing hands. Water Resources Minister Ramesh Jarkiholi as much as confirmed this in Belagavi on Thursday, when he said that MLA C P Yogeshwar had struggled to unite legislators prior to formation of the BJP government. In the process, he raised a loan of ₹9 crore by mortgaging his house, besides borrowing money from Minister MTB Nagaraj.

Responding to questions about the rising discontent among BJP leaders, Jarkiholi said that all those inducted into the cabinet deserved their berths. He said Yogeshwar had struggled to form the BJP government, leaving no stone unturned to unite the MLAs (17 who defected to the BJP), and had also faced health problems. "He raised Rs 9 crore as loan against his house and borrowed money from Minister Nagaraj," said Jarkiholi.

"We had to stay away from our families for 14 to 15 months (during Operation Lotus). It was not easy for us," he said, recalling the "challenging" task the MLAs had on hand to get the BJP to power.

Rubbishing threats by several disgruntled party MLAs, Jarkiholi said it was impossible to threaten Yediyurappa as he would never get intimidated by blackmail tactics.

The threat by some leaders that they would release CDs to nail some ministers in the government will not materialise, he said, asking MLA Renukacharya to release documents which he claimed could put a minister in trouble.

Chief Minister B S Yediyurappa on Thursday announced that a grant of Rs 10 crore will be released for the development of the Panchamasali Guru Peetha at Harihar, and the funds will be released within three or four days.

Says Union govt trying to destroy farmers, want to take away land from ryots and distribute it among 'friends'

VINODH ARULAPPAN @MADURAI

Two men trying to tame a bull during Jallikattu (Right) Rahul Gandhi with an elderly woman in Madurai on Thursday | EXPRESS

THE government will be forced to take back the farm laws (in the coming days), said Congress leader Rahul Gandhi who was on a day trip in Tamil Nadu and witnessed Jallikattu at Avaniyapuram in Madurai district.

Speaking to mediapersons at Madurai Airport, he said, "If anybody thinks, that they can suppress farmers and this country will continue to prosper, they just have to look at our history and whenever Indian farmers are weak, India is weak."

Coming down heavily on Prime Minister Narendra Modi, Rahul said, "You are suppressing the farmers and helping a handful of businesses. When Corona comes, you are not supporting the common man. Whose Prime Minister are you? Are you the Prime Minister of people or of two-three selected businessman?"

He also stated that the Union Government is conspiring to destroy the farmers. "They want to give the belonging of farmers to two or three of their business friends. They want to take the land and produce of the farmers and want it to give it to their friends," he said.

He further questioned that "What is China doing inside our territory? Why does the Prime Minister have nothing to say about it? Why is he silent on Chinese Troops sitting inside our territory?" These are the real questions to be asked.

Batting for Jallikattu

During the media interaction, Rahul said that he witnessed Jallikattu and had a nice time. "I got a sense of why Tamil people appreciate Jallikattu. There was a sense many people had mention to me that Jallikattu is harmful to bulls. I witnessed it today and I must say that the way it was done today there was absolutely no chance of either the bull getting injured. In fact, if anyone is likely to injured it was the young men who are doing Jallikattu. So I am happy to say that there have been some changes to make it safer," he added.

Centre Trying to Destroy Tamil Culture

Alleging that the government in Delhi (Union Government) is trying to supress the Tamil spirit and its culture, the Congress leader said "They (Union Government) believe they can suppress the emotions of the Tamil people, they believe they can crush the language of the Tamil people, they believe they can suppress the spirit of the Tamil people," the Congress leader said.

'KRIDC can't entrust inquiry to Lokayukta'

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @Bengaluru

THE High Court has held that the Karnataka Rural Infrastructure Development Corporation (KRIDC) does not have the power to entrust inquiry against its officials to the Lokayukta.

Allowing a petition questioning the entrusting of inquiry to the Lokayukta, Justice M Nagaprasanna held that entrusting an inquiry into the hands of the anti-corruption watchdog by the managing director of the corporation is an act without jurisdiction, and is not available with the corporation.

IN THE HC

The petition was filed by KRIDC executive engineers GB Devaraj, Davanagere; BP Lingaraju, Shivamogga; and Assistant Executive Engineer Ashwathanarayana Swamy, Ballari, who questioned KRIDC's order dated October 29, 2018, entrusting the departmental inquiry against them into the hands of the Lokayukta, and consequent action of the Additional Registrar of Enquiries-13, Lokayukta, issuing articles of charges dated December 20, 2018, pursuant to the entrustment.

The corporation entrusted the probe to the Lokayukta on a complaint of misconduct over a building construction, following a reference made by the government after receiving a report from the Lokayukta, under Section 12(3) of the Karnataka Lokayukta Act.

On arguments of the Lokayukta's counsel that it was created to root out graft and the court's interference will dilute its object, the judge stated that the object with which the Lokayukta is created will have to be executed only in accordance with the law.

"There is no specific rule in the corporation for such entrustment, as the Karnataka Civil Services (Classification, Control and Appeal) Rules are not specifically adopted by the Board of the Corporation, and the finding is rendered only in the absence of such adoption..." the judge said.

Justice Prasanna quashed the entrustment of enquiry to the Lokayukta and charges against the petitioners. However, he made it clear that setting aside the order will not preclude the corporation to proceed against the petitioners under the Cadre and Recruitment Rules of the corporation.

Kerala's economic growth plummets

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @T'Puram

KERALA economy's growth took a sharp decline to 3.46% in 2019-20 from 6.49% in 2018-19 as last three years' natural calamities affected the productive sectors of the state's economy, according to the Economic Review 2020 tabled in the Assembly on Thursday.

The review said Cyclone Ockhi in 2017 and severe floods resulting from extreme rain in 2018 and 2019 have started to hit the state's economy. "The natural disasters ravaged the state economy affecting the lives and livelihoods of many and adversely affecting productive sectors of the economy," said the review, which comes a day before the Kerala budget.

While the national growth rates plummeted to 4.2% in 2019-20 from 6.1% in 2018-19, Kerala's Gross State Domestic Product (GSDP) growth exceeded national rates in 2018-19 and grew at 6.49% decline in 2019-20, it pointed out.

According to the quick estimates, Kerala's GSDP at constant (2011-12) prices is ₹5.68 lakh crore in 2019-20 as against the provisional estimate of ₹5.49 lakh crore in 2018-19, showing a lower growth of 3.46%. However, at current prices, the state's economy is estimated to grow at 8.15% in the financial year ended March 31, 2020.

"At current prices, the GSDP is estimated at Rs 8.54 lakh crore (quick estimate) in 2019-20 as against the provisional estimate of Rs 7.90 lakh crore in 2018-19, showing a growth rate of 8.15%," the review said. In terms of GSVA, the quick estimate at constant (2011-12) prices is Rs 5.01 lakh crore in 2019-20 as against the provisional estimate of Rs 4.89 lakh crore in 2018-19.

Shah will clear air about bypoll candidate

UNION Home Minister Amit Shah's two-day visit to Karnataka from January 16 is significant for the state BJP unit and Yediyurappa in many ways, as the chief minister tries to stem the dissent against him by a section of the party leaders.

Shah will be addressing a mammoth gathering to felicitate the newly elected gram panchayat members at the 'Jana Sevak Samavesha'.

This is being seen as a morale booster for the BJP cadre before the Zilla and Taluk panchayat polls that are scheduled to be held in April/May.

Shah's visit will also clear air on the candidate for the upcoming bypoll to the Belagavi Lok Sabha seat which has fallen vacant with the death of the former Union minister Suresh Angadi.

MAESTRO DROPS SCHOOL PROJECT

SHAINU MOHAN @T'Puram

FOUR years after laying the foundation stone for the much-hyped International School of Music at the Veli Tourist Village here, sarod maestro Ustad Amjad Ali Khan has decided to drop his plan. Disappointing scores of music aficionados in the state, former Kerala Sangeetha Nataka Akademi chairman Soorya Krishnamoorthy recently signed the documents backing out from the project on behalf of the ustad, officially sealing the school's fate.

According to sources, the maestro's decision to hand over the two-acre land earmarked for the project back to the Tourism Department comes in the wake of a new set of terms put forward by the state government. Sources close to the chief minister's office said the government had proposed a huge annual lease amount for the allotted land, in addition to the demand to include government representatives in the institute's governing body.

Krishnamoorthy, who was an active part of the project, said the government's lease demand was what primarily put off the maestro. "It is unfortunate that we had to drop the project after making it thus far, but we could not agree with their demands. In addition to the lease amount, they also wanted four of the school's seven governing body members to be government representatives," he said. "Chief Minister Pinarayi Vijayan had taken a personal interest in the project. But it seems the administrators didn't want this to happen and so came up with new terms to dissuade the ustad," he added.

The then UDF government had earmarked the land for the project in 2016, after Khan expressed interest to set up the school following the gurukula system in Kerala. The maestro wanted to leave Delhi for good and settle down in Thiruvananthapuram, Krishnamoorthy said. An official with the Tourism Department, who was also involved in the project, said the government had never officially handed over the land for the project.

AUTO GAS GUZZLERS NOW FACE THE TESLA CHALLENGE

The formal entry of Tesla in India has charged up the automobile market. Consumers who have been following the iconic electric car manufacturer's fortunes around the world look upon Tesla's entry as a game changer that will help the country move towards a cleaner and safer mode of transportation. On the other hand, other car manufacturers are viewing Tesla's Bengaluru launch with some trepidation, as it represents the first serious challenge to traditional car technology in India. There have been a range of EV models available for some time—from the fuddy-duddy 'Reva' at ₹4 lakh to the Mercedes Benz EQC at ₹99.3 lakh—but it has not excited the consumer. The prohibitive cost of maintenance and the lack of a network of charging stations has been a huge disincentive.

Though there is no formal announcement yet from Tesla, it is expected the company will launch its cheapest 'Model 3' car carrying a tag of ₹50-60 lakh. It has gained popularity for its high-power batteries that give it a range of 500 km and safety provisions like the emergency braking system and multiple tracking cameras. Its more upmarket cars—Model S and Model X—will probably be in the ₹1.5-2 crore range. At these prices, Tesla will be in the upper luxury market, competing with the likes of the Range Rover and BMW, and is therefore unlikely to impact the Indian market for some time.

Yet, we must welcome Tesla as it will be a catalyst for electric transportation in India. The company is known to lay the infrastructure first before making and selling cars; hopefully, it will follow the same road map in India with a supercharging network followed by localised EV charging stations. The buzz is palpable as high-end housing societies discuss installing EV stations. The government too has targeted making India a 100% electric car nation by 2030 and announced nearly $5 billion in subsidies for EV battery manufacturing facilities. However, it needs to do more and can start with waiver of road tax and registration fees for electric cars.

VACCINES ARE HERE, BUT DON'T BE COMPLACENT

The first lot of Covid-19 vaccines was delivered to states on Tuesday. This, indeed, is a big relief for the thousands of Covid warriors who have made immense sacrifices for a public health crisis of unprecedented nature. Meanwhile, Serum Institute of India's announcement that its vaccine could be priced at about ₹1,000 a dose in the open market is being seen as subtle hints of it being made available to the public sooner than later. Odisha too received 4.08 lakh doses meant for its frontline workers, who would get the first jab starting January 16. After battling the global crisis for 10 months, this certainly is good news. But it is no time to declare victory and celebrate yet. Rather, we must adopt caution. The worst may have passed, as the falling numbers indicate—or not, going by the US and Europe and even Japan or South East Asia, where the surge has begun again. Only two vaccines have received emergency use authorisation in India and until production is scaled up to cover a larger populace, the Naveen Patnaik government must stick to its practices that have fetched good results in its battle against the virus. With just 200-odd daily cases reported now, it appears to be relaxing a bit. Any complacency on the part of the administration could result in an explosion. As schools were reopened, Gajapati district reported a spate of infections among teachers. Clusters have been reported in Cuttack too. Going by an analysis, Puri district is reporting a reproduction number in an excess of two. Khurda, Sundargarh and Cuttack are not completely out of danger yet. Places of worship have been reopened as pressure mounted on the administration after nine months of closure and other states threw them open.

The Odisha government, which showed immense patience and maturity in dealing with unlocking, must keep a watch on the emerging situation in other places where a rush to reopen institutions backfired. It should also keep its Covid testing numbers going. Currently, the daily tests are around 25,000 against the 50,000-a-day level planned till the first half of the month. As Chief Minister Naveen Patnaik has reiterated, there must not be any lowering of guard. The good fight must continue till the finish.

Rimland and heartland nations have very different perceptions of security. It is important for heartland ones to have a sense of control over areas just beyond their borders

THE EFFECT OF GEOGRAPHY ON SECURITY CONCERNS

PRADIP PHANJOUBAM

Editor, Imphal Review of Arts and Politics

AMIT BANDRE

The geographical factor behind deeply inherent perceptions of security among different people is known but seldom given the importance it should get in efforts to understand and evolve resolutions to endemic conflicts. Seen from this vantage, many of the conflict theatres would begin to appear different, calling for different approaches to settlements.

The India-China boundary dispute in Arunachal Pradesh will illustrate this. China's claim is that the state is South Tibet, but this is probably maximalist posturing. Except for the Tawang-Bomdila corridor in Arunachal's western districts, the Tibetan Buddhist Church—as Alastair Lamb called it in The McMahon Line: A Study in the Relations Between, India, China and Tibet, 1904 to 1914—had virtually no influence in the rest of the state, unlike say in Sikkim, Ladakh and Bhutan.

Tawang, the birthplace of the sixth Dalai Lama, indeed was under Tibetan control back then and it was only during the Simla Conference of 1913-14 that Henry McMahon and Charles Bell bargained for its inclusion with India. The reason was, Tawang was too close to the Assam plains. Tibet in turn was promised British support in case of Chinese aggression.

When China invaded Tibet in October 1950, Lhasa took the matter to the UN. Its allies Britain, the US and India were unwilling to sponsor its motion and it was ultimately El Salvador that did the favour. This prompted Tibet to actually ask for the return of Tawang.

After the Simla Conference, even though Tawang was politically made a part of India, it was still allowed to be under the cultural and religious control of Lhasa. However, after China communicated to India of its decision to take over Tibet, New Delhi decided to end Lhasa's suzerain influence on Tawang in early 1950.

There is also the legacy of the British frontier administration that complicated the matter. The most significant is the Bengal Eastern Frontier Regulation, 1873, which created an Inner Line along the base of the hills surrounding the plains of Assam. This line divided British revenue land from the non-revenue ones. While the former were to be administered, the latter were to be claimed but not administered.

Lord Curzon's Romanes Lecture 1907 titled "Frontiers" gives more insights into how notions like "suzerainty", "protectorate states", "excluded" and "partially-excluded" resulted from this approach to frontier management. These were territories where the British involved themselves in a calibrated way in indirect administration. The Tibet case stood out in this. The British did not want to take control of it but did not want other powers extending their "sphere of influence" there. This legacy of boundary ambiguity is now being capitalised by China.

But there is a more primal politics shaped by subliminal anxieties. As in Kashmir, the anxiety here is also water. Just as all major tributaries of the Indus River, including the five that irrigate the fertile plains of Punjab, either originate or flow through Kashmir, all the major tributaries of the Brahmaputra River also flow out of Arunachal. Controlling the state can hence be an important handle in controlling the Northeast as well as Bangladesh.

The heartland outlook to security was evident in Lord Curzon's Tibet anxiety, which led him to invade the monastery state in 1904. In London, Lord Morley and his likes dismissed this concern and eventually ended up undoing whatever Curzon achieved

The same civilisational threat Indus valley would feel at losing control of the waters that feed it would also be true of the fertile plains Brahmaputra irrigates. Even between friendly countries, the protest by Bangladesh regarding India's proposed Tipaimukh Dam over the Barak is the litmus test to demonstrate this archetypal anxiety in the relationship between any river valley and the hills that surround it. This dynamic can also be seen in the objections from Manipur, Assam and Arunachal Pradesh to the demand for a Greater Nagaland.

Halford Mackinder's influential Geographical Pivot of History in 1904, taken forward by Robert Kaplan in Revenge of Geography, elaborates on this further. Rimland and heartland nations have very different perceptions of security. Island nations are bound by natural boundaries, heartland nations invariably by artificial ones. It is important for heartland nations to have a sense of control over territories immediately beyond their national boundaries. Russia's extreme response to NATO befriending Ukraine was explained thus. The vast plains that separate Russia from Western European powers have always been a source of Russia's security through history. The futile invasions by Napoleon and Hitler demonstrated this.

The British Empire had a curious mix of both psychologies. The friction between Lord Morley in London at the India secretariat and Lord Curzon as viceroy in Calcutta say this loudly. The heartland outlook to security was evident in Curzon's Tibet anxiety, which led him to invade the monastery state in 1904 when he became convinced it was leaning towards Russia. In London, Morley and his likes dismissed this concern and eventually ended up undoing whatever Curzon achieved.

Morley's letter to Curzon's successor Lord Minto in October 1906 is revealing: These "frontier men",forget "the complex intrigues, rival interests and, if you like, diabolical machinations which make up international politics for a vast sprawling Empire like ours..." Ironically, Minto, while in London in Morley's office, spoke the same language, but once in India, he too began seeing as Curzon did and expressed his dissatisfaction at the way the Lhasa Convention 1904 was allowed to be usurped by the Peking Convention 1906. It is arguable that if Curzon had his way, the British would probably have left Tibet like Bhutan, or Sikkim before 1975.

REVOKE IBC SUSPENSION TO RESOLVE STRESSED ASSETS

RAJESH KUMAR GUPTA

Chief General Manager, Insolvency and Bankruptcy Board of India

The enactment of the Insolvency and Bankruptcy Code, 2016 ('Code'), is considered the biggest economic reform next only to the GST. Prior to its enactment, the legal and institutional mechanisms for dealing with debt default were not very effective and out of alignment with global best practices. The recovery actions initiated by the creditors, utilising available statutes, were time consuming and did not yield the desired outcomes.

Adequate and timely availability of credit is important for the growth of any economy. Secured credit extended by banks is the largest component of credit markets in India, specifically in the absence of a mature capital debt market. The Code promotes entrepreneurship and availability of adequate credit, balances the interests of all stakeholders in a time-bound manner and maximises the value of the assets of debtors.

The paradigm shift brought in by the Code ensures that when a firm defaults on its debt-servicing obligations, its control shifts from the promoters to a Committee of Creditors (CoC), i.e. transformation from the 'debtor in control' model to 'creditor in possession' one. Further, the process being time-bound, the CoC has to either evaluate resolution proposals for resuscitating the company or take it to liquidation. Taking decisions at an early stage of financial stress in a time-bound manner gives a better chance to save a stressed firm as a going concern and the scarce resources of the economy can be put to best use.

The Code is a comprehensive and systemic reform that has catapulted India from amongst the relatively weak insolvency regimes to becoming one of the world's better ones. Accordingly, India's position in the 'resolving insolvency' parameter of the World Bank's Ease of Doing Business Survey has improved 56 places to 52 in 2019 from 108 in 2018, among 190 countries. This in turn pushed India's overall ranking to 63 out of 190 countries in 2019.

Measures initiated to tackle Covid-19 impact: A rare black swan event like the Covid-19 pandemic needed a swift response to save lives, livelihoods and the lives of firms. The Central government adopted an accommodative stance and acted swiftly to prevent corporates and individuals from being forced into insolvency and bankruptcy. Among others, it suspended select provisions of the Code for filing applications, for initiation of Corporate Insolvency Resolution Process (CIRP) for any default arising on or after 25 March 2020, for an initial period of six months and later extended it by another six, in two tranches of three months each. Further, the threshold of default for initiating the insolvency process was raised from ₹1 lakh to ₹1 crore.

Measurable impact of Covid-19 measures: The provisions relating to CIRP came into force on 1 December 2016. Since then, the number of CIRPs admitted were registering a gradual up trend, till end March 2020. Pursuant to Covid-19 measures, as above, the number of CIRPs admitted, resolved and withdrawn have registered a sharp decline. For example, 1,152 CIRPs were admitted in 2018-19, increasing to 1,953 in 2019-20, but declining to a meagre 161 during the first six months of the current financial year. Similarly, the number of cases resolved increased from 80 in 2018-19 to 135 in 2019-20 and thereafter declined to 42 after Covid measures came into force, up to September 2020. Numbers for CIRPs leading to liquidation stood at 306, 536 and 93, respectively.

Prior to implementation of measures to tackle the Covid-19 impact, resolution of stressed assets under the IBC had registered commendable performance. Since inception, till March 2020, 221 CIRPs had yielded resolution, with financial creditors realising ₹1.77 lakh crore, 45.96% of their admitted claims. Likewise, 1,025 CIRPs resulted in liquidations, releasing precious locked resources that could be channelised for improving economic growth.

Prior to implementation of measures to tackle Covid-19, resolution of stressed assets had registered commendable performance.... Now, the number of CIRPs admitted, resolved and withdrawn have registered a sharp decline. The positive transformation in credit culture may revert to pre-IBC days if this suspension is prolonged any longer

Further, on account of behavioural change and transformation of credit culture pursuant to IBC implementation, resolution of stressed assets was happening much before default or in the early days of default. The same is corroborated by the fact that a total of 14,884 CIRP applications, aggregating over ₹5.15 lakh crore, were withdrawn prior to admission, up to 30 September 2020. The positive transformation in credit culture may revert to pre-IBC days, if this suspension is prolonged any longer.

The RBI in its latest report, Trend and Progress of Banking in India: 2019-20 released on 29 December 2020, while noting the improved asset quality of scheduled commercial banks, has acknowledged the dominant mode of recovery being the Insolvency and Bankruptcy Code. The RBI has also raised concerns about sharp deterioration in asset quality going forward, given the uncertainty induced by Covid-19 and its real economic impact after gradual rollback of the pandemic policy measures.

The way forward: The gradual build-up of momentum for the resolution of stressed assets pursuant to implementation of the IBC over the past four years has led to a positive transformation in credit culture. Speedy resolutions with higher recoveries for financial creditors and closure by way of liquidation have slowed down during the past nine months in the wake of measures initiated to tackle Covid-19. The weakening performance of the IBC framework is visible from the decline in the number of CIRPs admitted/resolved. Moreover, the RBI has also indicated that it expects a sharp deterioration in asset quality in the near future, after the rollback of Covid-19 measures. In order to continue to enjoy the benefits of the Code and effectively address the expected sharp deterioration in asset quality, it may be imperative to revoke the suspension of sections 7, 9 and 10 of the Code at an early date.

Balanced panel needed

The apex court's decision to stay the farm laws is welcome. The verdict has also helped the Union government save face. However it would have been better if the Supreme Court had selected a more balanced panel to talk to all stakeholders.

Krishnaprasad Elappully, Palakkad

Protestors intransigent

The Supreme Court has tried to placate the farmers adamantly agitating in Delhi. That is why it took the extraordinary decision to stay the laws passed by Parliament and also to set up a committee to go into the issues. Instead of being intransigent, the farmers should have capitalised on the apex court's goodwill.

Ending LAC stalemate

The Indian Army Chief's statement that the troops would stay on at the Line of Actual Control as long as needed is indicative of the fact that there is no light even at the far end of the tunnel. Since protracted dialogues have yielded no tangible result, fresh diplomatic initiatives are needed to end the stalemate.

Injury-hit India

Following India's heroic display in the third Test at Sydney, injuries to key players have put the team in a quandary. Mohammed Shami, Umesh Yadav, K L Rahul, Ravindra Jadeja and Mayank Agarwal were already on the injured list. Strike bowler Jasprit Bumrah appears to be the latest casualty.

Sledging by Aussies

Sledging within limits is permissible but if it crosses the decency line, then it turns ugly. And the Australians are known to cross the line often. It's time the International Cricket Council brings in and enforces some code of conduct to prevent these shameful incidents.

Tesla entry welcome

The entry of Tesla into India is a huge moment for the green mobility movement. It is really great to see that the electric vehicle giant has registered with the Registrar of Companies and kicked off its India operations in Bengaluru. This will change the way we travel and lead to a better, greener world.

Fishing in troubled waters

This is with reference to the editorial Temple attacks in AP a cause for concern (Jan 13). It's too early to conclude who's behind the vandalism of temples in AP. Nonetheless, this necessitates action from the government. As mentioned, there's an element of sinister motive behind the attacks. However, the move by some political parties to fish in the troubled waters is deplorable.

Bijumon P N, Idukki

Conversions unabated

The desecrations are disturbing. Induced conversions too are going on unabated in Andhra with the administration looking the other way. There have even been cases of non-Hindus on the rolls of the TTD. The BJP is right in making this an election issue as such activities hurt secularism.

Hemanth Bhide, Mangaluru

Free the temples

You have rightly said that the government should get out of administration of temples and that it should act against induced conversions. This is what many well-meaning people have demanded time and again.

Subjugation of Palestinians

It is heartening to hear that a leading Israeli human rights group has described both Israel and its control of Palestinian territories as a single 'apartheid' regime (World, Jan 13). It is time that the conscience of the world rose against the inhuman treatment and long subjugation of Palestinians dreaming for a state of their own.

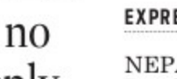
Farmers to sit for ninth round of talks today

Govt, unions confirm discussion will be held as scheduled; details of Jan 26 tractor rally to be worked out after the meet

HARPREET BAJWA @Chandigarh

THE Centre as well as the protesting farmer unions on Thursday said the ninth round of talks over the contentious farm laws will take place as scheduled. "We are hopeful of a positive discussion at the ninth round of talks with farmer unions on Friday," Agriculture Minister Narendra Singh Tomar said, reiterating that the Centre was ready to talk to the farmers with an open mind.



Hopeful of positive discussion at the ninth round of talks with farmer unions. The Centre is ready to hold talks with an open mind

Narendra Tomar, Agri Minister

Doubts over the continuation of the dialogue emerged after farmer unions dismissed the Supreme Court-appointed four-member panel to end the stalemate. However, the unions have confirmed they will not pull out from the talks. "Let's see what happens at the meeting. But our meetings with the government will continue till our protest ends," Bharatiya Kisan Union (BKU) leader Rakesh Tikait said.

The farmer union leaders also appealed to all protesters to maintain peace and harmony during the tractor parade on Republic Day. BKU (Rajewal) leader Balbir Singh Rajewal said the details of the tractor parade in Delhi will be finalised next week after the talks with the government.

In an open letter written in Punjabi to all farmers, Rajewal condemned rumours saying the farmers will march to Rajpath and hoist the national flag at Red Fort. Urging everyone not to fall for such rumours, he asked people to participate in large numbers.

The BKU leader also appealed to farmers to act as volunteers and keep an eye on anyone trying to defame the struggle saying "we can win only through peaceful means".

Darshan Pal, president of Krantikari Kisan Union, said, "We will be entering Delhi on January 26 and for that we will be finalising our strategy soon. How many of us will enter from where and how is still to be decided. But our march will be totally peaceful."

Meanwhile, more than 800 women farmers and university students have written an open letter to Chief Justice of India S A Bobde expressing shock and dismay at the comments made in the Supreme Court "undermining" the participation of women farmers in the agitation.

"One of the important points of concern is the paternalism and patriarchy reflected in observations with regard to women farmers. We urge the respected institution of the Supreme Court to recognise and appreciate the agency of women in this matter," Kavitha Krunganthi of All India Kisan Sangarsh Coordination Committee said.

Amandeep, National Council Member, Youth for Swaraj, said women were the heart and soul of the agitation and undermining their role was disgraceful.

'REPEAL FARM LAWS TO RESOLVE CRISIS'

Chandigarh: The Punjab Cabinet passed a resolution demanding repealing of farm laws as agriculture is a state subject under the constitution and to make MSP a statutory right. In a formal resolution, the Cabinet reiterated its commitment to the resolutions passed by the Assembly in August last year stressing that all the genuine demands of the farmers must be accepted. It welcomed the SC order staying the central laws as acknowledgement of the concerns of the farmers.

Broken ties with Bhupinder says BKU (Mann) leader

THE announcement of Mann, president of Bharatiya Kisan Union (Mann) and chairman of All India Kisan Coordination Committee, came on a day his organisation's Punjab unit decided to disassociate itself from him. Sources said he had taken this step amid growing criticism from within the farmers' community, including his own union, for "siding with the government". Mann was part of a group of farmers that had met Union Agriculture Minister Narendra Tomar in December and backed the farm laws.

Baldev Singh Mianpur, Punjab president of BKU (Mann) said, "We have broken all ties with Mann. He became the member of the committee formed by the apex court without even discussing with the union... Our union is with all the other 40 farmers unions who want these laws to be repealed. When the farmer unions had refused to appear before the committee, what was the point being part of the panel?"

Mann, 81, had formed the AIKCC in early 1980s and is its chairman.

Air pollution: Big cities fare better, small towns toxic

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ New Delhi

WHILE several bigger cities like Delhi and Varanasi saw reduction in annual PM 2.5 levels, smaller towns and cities like Fatehabad or Moradabad have seen an increase, shows a new analysis.

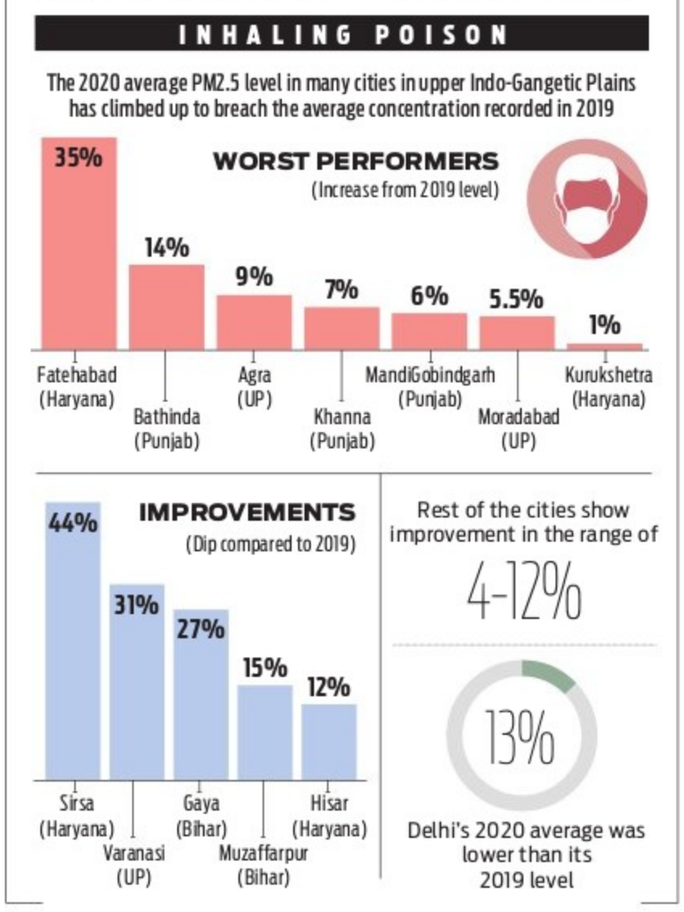
An analysis of winter air pollution (till January 11) by the Centre for Science and Environment (CSE) in the cities of Indo-Gangetic Plains shows how clean air gains of the lockdown and monsoon periods have been lost with the reopening of the economy and the hostile winter weather.

Annual average level of PM2.5 is not lower in many cities despite the lockdown. The 2020 average PM2.5 level in many cities in the upper Gangetic plains has climbed up to breach the average concentration recorded in 2019. Fatehabad in northern Haryana is the worst with a 35 per cent increase from 2019 level.

Higher PM2.5 levels is a winter trend when continuous emissions from local sources including vehicles, industry, construction, and pollution from biomass burning get trapped due to meteorological changes.

"Even though the average level of PM2.5 for the summer and monsoon months in 2020 is considerably lower than the previous year's due to the lockdown, the PM2.5 levels this winter have risen beyond the 2019 levels in almost all monitored cities in Punjab and Haryana," said Avikal Somvanshi, programme manager in CSE's Urban Lab team of the Sustainable Cities programme.

The number of days with PM2.5 concentration meeting the standard was considerably lower this winter — more 'poor' or 'worse' days. There have been 33 days of standard air days this winter compared to 41 recorded last year in Amritsar. Similarly, standard days have been lesser by 11 days in Ambala and four in Lucknow and Patna each. In Lucknow, not a single day met the standard since the beginning of October this winter; there were 19 days of 'severe' or 'worse' air quality — up from five last winter.



COVID JABS

Brazilian plane in India despite no clarity on supply

PUSHKAR BANAKAR @New Delhi

BRAZIL sent an aircraft to India on Thursday to procure 2 million doses of Covid vaccine even as India said it was too early to respond to vaccine requests from other countries.

"As you know, the vaccination process is just starting in India. It is too early to give a specific response on the supplies to other countries as we are still assessing production schedules and availability to take decisions in this regard. This may take some time," the MEA said in response to this development.

It is unclear whether Brazil will be supplied the Serum Institute of India manufactured vaccine under a government-to-government agreement, commercial agreement or under procedures of the vaccine alliance — GAVI.

According to Brazilian health minister Eduardo Pazuello, the plane was sent after Prime Minister Narendra Modi accepted Brazilian President Jair Bolsonaro's request to expedite the consignment of vaccines.

The move also comes days after External Affairs Minister S Jaishankar said that the supply of vaccines to other countries would be cleared only after a few weeks and after domestic needs had been satisfied. Modi is scheduled to launch the vaccination drive on Saturday.

With more than 80 lakh cases, Brazil has the third-highest Covid infections in the world and over 2 lakh deaths. While there is a rush to buy vaccine from abroad, Bolsonaro has refused to be vaccinated.

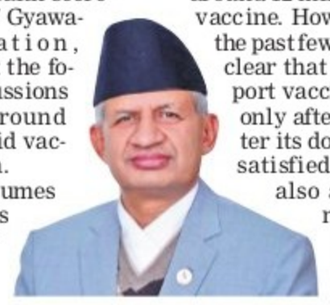
EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ New Delhi

NEPAL'S Foreign Minister Pradeep Gyawali on Thursday arrived in India for a two-day visit during which he will meet his Indian counterpart S Jaishankar and is expected to discuss the boundary issue and cooperation on Covid vaccine.

The Nepalese foreign minister will meet Jaishankar on Friday after which he will co-chair the meeting of the India-Nepal joint commission. The sixth joint commission meeting "will discuss the whole gamut of Nepal-India bilateral relations, including trade, transit, energy, boundary, COVID-19 cooperation, infrastructure, connectivity, investment, agriculture, tourism, culture, among others", Nepal's Ministry of Foreign Affairs said in a statement.

The Nepalese foreign secretary and the health secretary are part of Gyawali's delegation, indicating that the focus of the discussions will revolve around procuring Covid vaccine from India.



The move assumes significance as Nepal has indicated preference for Indian vaccines over China's Sinovac due to factors like the pricing and the already well-established ties between the two neighbours in the health sector.

Sources said that the Nepalese side is looking to procure around 12 million doses of the vaccine. However, India over the past few days has made it clear that the ability to export vaccines will be clear only after a few weeks after its domestic needs are satisfied. New Delhi has also asserted that its neighbours will get priority in the export of vaccines.

Apart from the vaccine cooperation, the boundary issue is also likely to come up for discussion. India-Nepal relations hit a roadblock after the KP Sharma Oli government had laste year approved a new political map which featured the Indian territories of Lipulekh, Kalapani and Limpiyadhura. India had slammed the move, calling it unjustified cartographic assertion.

Sources in the MEA said as Oli is currently running a caretaker government after dissolving the Nepal Parliament, discussions on the boundary issue are not likely to move forward.

No foreign head as R-Day chief guest due to pandemic

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ New Delhi

THE Republic Day Parade this year will not have a foreign head of state or government as the chief guest, the MEA said on Thursday.

UK Prime Minister Boris Johnson , who was invited for the event, has already cancelled his trip citing spike in Covid cases in his country. This will be the fourth instance after 1952, 1953 and 1966 that the Republic Day parade will not have a chief guest.

"Due to the global Covid-19 situation, it has been decided that this year, there will not be a foreign head of state or head of government as the chief guest for our Republic Day event," MEA spokesperson Anurag Srivastava said.

The parade this year will be shorter and have lesser number of participants and spectators than usual as all Covid related protocols would be followed at Rajpath.

For the second time, a foreign contingent will be a part of the parade on January 26. A 122-member tri-services contingent from Bangladesh has arrived to participate in the parade.

Before this, a French contingent had taken part in the event in 2016. Bangladesh was nvited to participate in this year's parade as the two countries are commemorating 50 years of diplomatic ties. "This is testimony to our ties, which are forged in shared sacrifice. This year will be historic in our relations as we are also commemorating the 50th anniversary of the liberation war," Srivastava said.

Vaccination allowed only for those above 18: Govt

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ New Delhi

THE Centre on Thursday made it clear that Covid vaccines should be deferred by at least four-eight weeks for the people who have active symptoms of SARS CoV 2 infection or those who have received convalescent plasma or monoclonal antibodies recently.

After first indicating that Covaxin could be used for those above 14 years, the government has said only people above 18 years should be given this.

In a letter to the States, the Union health ministry shared comparative fact sheets for two vaccines for which the approvals have been granted, containing information on vaccine platform, physical specifications, cold chain requirement, contraindications and minor adverse events following immunisation.

The communiqué comes two days before the scheduled launch of the nationwide Covid vaccination drive. "Very rare events of demyelinating disorders following vaccination have been reported with this vaccine without the causal relationship establishment," said the detail on Covishield.

Neither of the vaccines should be used for pregnant or lactating women while it should be deferred for those acutely unwell or hospitalised, with or without intensive care, it added.

However, those who have recovered from Covid, have comorbidities or HIV or any other immune-deficiencies could be given the shots, even though the vaccine response could be lesser in such individuals.

For Covishield, the letter says, Paracetamol may be given to vaccines for symptomatic relief. No such indication was given in case of Covaxin.

Interchangeability of vaccine is not permitted. The second dose of the vaccine should also be of the one that was administered as first dose — Centre's letter to States

Befitting reply if any superpower hurts national pride, asserts Rajnath

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Bengaluru

AMID the eight-month-old border standoff with China, Defence Minister Rajnath Singh said that India does not want a war, but its soldiers are capable of giving a befitting reply if any superpower hurts the country's pride.

"We don't want war and we are in favour of protecting everyone's security. But I want to say this in clear terms that if any superpower wants to hurt our pride, then our soldiers are capable of giving them a befitting reply," he said without naming any country at the 5th Armed Forces Veterans' Day at the Headquarters Training Command of the Indian Air Force on Thursday.

Insisting that India never wanted conflict with any nation, Singh said, "It always wants peace and friendly ties with its neighbours, because it's in our blood and culture."

Referring to the LAC standoff, the Minister said the Indian soldiers displayed exemplary courage and patience.

No more than 100 jabs per day, states told

"THIS will be just the beginning of the vaccination in India and it's likely that many will want to see others take the vaccines first before they take the jabs," the senior official added.

All the states which have got the supply of the two approved vaccines — Covishield and Covaxin — have been advised not to administer more than 100 vaccines per day per centre. The number of designated centres could be later increased to 5,000.

The government has procured 1.65 crore doses of vaccines for the first phase which include 1.1 crore doses of Covishield produced by the Serum Institute of India and 55 lakh doses of Covaxin by Bharat Biotech.

Pulse polio drive

Meanwhile, the Union Health Ministry clarified that the three-day polio immunisation programme, set to begin on January 17, will now be carried out on the last day of this month. On Wednesday, the government had deferred the nationwide pulse polio immunisation programme "till further notice" without specifying the reasons.

The Union Health Ministry on Thursday confirmed that the decision was taken in view of the Covid-19 vaccination drive.

Didi to follow Kejriwal-style poll campaign

Copying AAP's strategy, TMC will highlight development works in its poll manifesto

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@Kolkata

IN lessons drawn from the campaign style of Arvind Kejriwal's AAP in the Delhi Assembly polls, West Bengal Chief Minister and Trinamool Congress chief Mamata Banerjee has asked her party workers to initiate work for the 2021 manifesto highlighting development projects implemented by her government.

The CM has sought suggestions from her party workers, MPs and MLAs to focus on specific issues to be showcased in the manifesto ahead of the upcoming Assembly polls. "We will follow the AAP model as it proved effective against BJP's aggressive campaign in Delhi. In the manifesto, the CM wants to highlight a slew of government schemes implemented in the last 10 years. She also wants the party document to mention TMC's promises made in the 2016 polls and how these were fulfilled on the ground," said a senior TMC leader. It will also mention the time taken to complete the government projects which were announced before the 2016 polls.

Party sources said results of a survey conducted by election strategist Prashant Kishor and his team would also find a place in the manifesto, which will be designed considering the BJP as the main rival. "The saffron camp's divisive agenda will also be mentioned," said another TMC leader.

The TMC chief's focus on young foot-soldiers is due to the fact that the number of young voters aged between 18 and 25 is sizable in all the 294 Assembly constituencies.

The sources said after filtering the opinion from cadres and elected representatives, a draft manifesto would be prepared. "The CM on several occasions has hit out at the BJP for bringing into Bengal leaders from outside. We'll take it up ahead of the polls," said a TMC leader.

Deputy Election Commissioner Sudip Jain has told the Bengal administrative officials that the Commission wanted to complete the election process in Kerala, Assam, Tamil Nadu and Puducherry and West Bengal by the last week of April.

Gupkar leader tones down Article 370 promise

FAYAZ WANI @ Srinagar

THREE months after the formation of People's Alliance for Gupkar Declaration (PAGD) to fight for restoration of J&K's special status, the convener of the seven-party alliance, Mohammad Yousuf Tarigami, on Thursday stated that the alliance never said it would get back Article 370. He also ruled out launching any big agitation.

Talking to this newspaper, Tarigami said they are planning to meet national leaders. "We will also be holding a convention. We will visit different parts of Jammu region and talk to people because this (revoking of J&K's special status and bifurcation of erstwhile state) is not a concern of an individual or only of Kashmir's population, but all of J&K."

When asked whether the PAGD, which was formed in October last year to fight for Article 370 restoration, has any road map, he said, "Road map is not a fixed agenda. But we have got a fixed agenda and that is the restoration of constitutional position of the erstwhile J&K state." He, however, asserted that they never said they will get it (Article 370) back. "Which Gupkar Alliance leader has said they will bring it back. We said we will struggle and raise our voices. What else can we do?"

On whether peaceful agitation will be part of their struggle for Article 370 restoration, Tarigami said, "I can't say anything on it. We have not sat together to discuss this point. When we meet, we will discuss every option. We will do whatever is required peacefully within norms of the law."

Taking a dig at PM Narendra Modi and Home Minister Amit Shah, he said, "They had promised in Parliament that statehood of J&K wwould be restored, why are they not restoring it. The BJP is also demanding it. Why don't they restore the statehood."

We said we will use every opportunity and every forum. Whatever opportunity and forum we get, we will raise our voice for Article 370 restoration. We will go to court— Mohammad Tarigami, PAGD convenor

Munde case: Maha BJP divided over action plan

SUDHIR SURYAWANSHI @ Mumbai

BJP leader Krishna Hegde on Thursday filed an FIR against Renu Sharma, who has lodged a sexual harassment case against NCP minister Dhananjay Munde.

Hegde alleged that Renu Sharma had approached him in 2010 and tried to blackmail him over sexual harassment-like cases. "However, as a safer side, I had filed a non-cognisable case (NC) against Renu Sharma in 2010. Now, I have decided to turn my NC into an FIR against this woman who reportedly filed the sexual exploitation case against Munde. Dhananjay Munde is not my friend, but he seems to have been trapped by this woman," Hegde said.

He has also demanded action against Sharma for blackmailing and cheating other people. "She is a habitual blackmailer and cheater," Hegde said.

Interestingly, BJP's former MP Kirit Somaiya earlier in the day went along with Sharma to file a police complaint against the minister. Somaiya also demanded Munde's resignation.

In another turn of events it was revealed that Sharma had filed a sexual harassment complaint against Rizwan Sheikh in 2019. Later in the probe, it was revealed that Sharma was also blackmailing Rizwan who was working with one of the private airlines.

Meanwhile, the state BJP seems divided over the issue. Former CM Devendra Fadnavis, who is known to be on good terms with Munde, said a fair probe should be ordered in the case, but he did not demand his resignation. Fadnavis is reported to have told his supporters that this is a personal matter of Munde and that it should not be politicised. However, state BJP chief Chandrakant Patil and former MP Kirit Somaiya have refused to follow Fadnavis' advice and demanded action against Munde.

Charges against Munde serious, says Pawar

NCP chief Sharad Pawar said that the charges against Dhananjay Munde are serious. "I will not take any decision... I will consult my party colleagues before deciding on the resignation of Munde. There is no question of protecting anyone," the veteran politician said

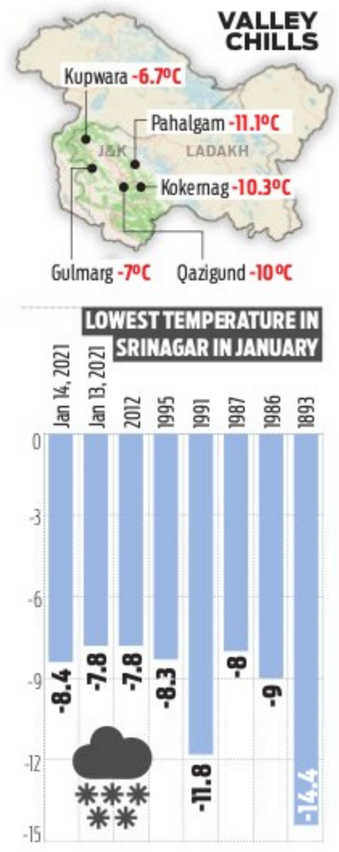
COLDEST NIGHT OF LAST 30 YEARS FREEZES SRINAGAR



FAYAZ WANI @ Srinagar

CRICKET lovers in Srinagar found a new 'ground' on Thursday as they played the game on the surface of frozen Dal Lake after the city recorded the coldest night of last 30 years.

Deputy Director of Meteorological department, Kashmir Mukhtar Ahmad, said the night temperature in Srinagar dropped to minus 8.4 degrees Celsius on the intervening night of January 13 and 14. Earlier, in 1991, the night temperature in Srinagar had dropped to minus 11.8 degrees Celsius. Similarly, in 1995, the city's night temperature had dropped to minus 8.3 degrees Celsius. The lowest temperature ever recorded in Srinagar is minus 14.4 degrees Celsius, in 1893.

With the mercury dropping many degrees below freezing point, several waterbodies, including portions of the famed Dal Lake, in Srinagar froze.

Some children and youngsters were seen playing cricket with cosco ball on the frozen portions of the lake. Some kids were seen sliding on the ice.

Apprehending that the youth's enthusiasm could lead to some mishap, the administration deployed quick response teams and the River Police in Dal Lake to prevent youth from walking or playing on the frozen lake.

The officials cautioned that moving on thin layer of ice is very risky and can result in slips, falls, fractures and fatal injuries.

The shikarawala also faced tough time in rowing their boats in the frozen Dal. They had to break the ice to make way for their boats.

Not only Srinagar, night temperature remained many degrees below freezing point in other parts of the Valley.

Kashmir at present is in a grip of 40-day harshest winter period known as Chilai Kalan. During this time, which starts on December 21 and ends on January 31, there are maximum chances of snowfall.

Raj govt to set up cell to nab corrupt officials

RAJESH ASNANI @ Jaipur

IN a bid to tighten the noose around corrupt officials, the Rajasthan government has decided to create a special cell in the Personnel Department that will closely monitor suspected corrupt and irresponsible officials in the state. This comes a day after two senior Rajasthan Administrative Service (RAS) officials were caught red-handed by the Anti-corruption Bureau (ACB) while they were taking bribes.

In recent months, the ACB has been on a massive campaign against corrupt officials in the state at the behest of Chief Minister Ashok Gehlot. The CM stated that a cell will be formed "to look into complaints of indiscipline and corruption against government officials and that anyone found guilty will be punished severely". It may be noted that the ACB on Wednesday caught the two RAS officials taking bribes of ₹10 and ₹5 lakh each. They were taking money from a construction contractor engaged in a national highway project.

HC comes to rescue of UP interfaith couple, asks cops to stop harassment

NAMITA BAJPAI @ Lucknow

THE Lucknow bench of Allahabad High Court has come to the rescue of yet another interfaith couple allegedly facing harassment at the hands of police in the name of the newly promulgated UP Prohibition of Unlawful Conversion of Religion Ordinance-2020.

A division bench directed Amethi police not to harass the couple who had married three years ago. The woman's family had filed an FIR against her husband and others in 2017 on charges of abduction for marriage and the police used that to start harassing them after the ordinance was brought, said the plea filed by Chandni and her husband. The court directed the state government counsel to file a response in connection with the petition.

The petitioners' lawyer, A K Pandey, submitted that the couple tied the knot three years ago out of their own free will and had since been living peacefully. The Uttar Pradesh government had recently filed an affidavit in connection with a case in Allahabad High Court saying the new anti-conversion ordinance didn't target any particular religion and was equally applicable to all forms of forced conversion, not just interfaith marriages.

However, so far total 86 persons have been booked since the promulgation of anti-conversion law on November 28, 2020, of which 79 are Muslims. Fifty-four people have been arrested. All those who have been booked are the charges of enticing a woman and forcing her to convert to Islam.

Another turncoat Congress MLA gets key post in MP

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Bhopal

ANOTHER former Congress legislator who switched over to the BJP has been rewarded by the ruling party with a key post in the Madhya Pradesh government.

Rahul Singh, a first-time Congress MLA from Damoh of Bundelkhand region, who quit the Vidhan Sabha and the Congress party and joined the ruling BJP, just a few days before the crucial November 3, 2020 Assembly bypolls, has been appointed the chairman of MP Warehousing and Logistics Corporation.

In the 2018 Assembly polls, Rahul had done the giant killing by defeating BJP veteran and state's incumbent finance minister Jayant Malaiya by a wafer-thin margin from Damoh seat of Damoh district. Bypolls are yet to be held for the Damoh which fell vacant due to Singh's resignation.

A few months ago, Rahul's uncle and another first-time Congress MLA, Pradyuman Singh Lodhi, too, was made the chairman of MP Civil Supplies Corporation, just a few hours after he quit the Congress to join the BJP. Pradyuman was among the 18 former Congress MLAs, who later won the bypolls, which gave the BJP comfortable majority on its own.

At present, 11 ministers in the 30-strong Shivraj Singh Chouhan Cabinet are former Congress MLAs. Meanwhile, sources within the ruling BJP confided to TNIE that 4-5 Congress MLAs are in touch with the BJP and eager to join the saffron camp. However, now enjoying a comfortable majority with 126 MLAs in the 230 member House, the BJP isn't too keen to invite them.

Traffic diversion to facilitate tunnel works

A portion of the Sealdah flyover, between its crossing with MG Road and Beleghata Road, will be closed to traffic from Friday night till Tuesday morning to facilitate the construction of Bowbazar-bound tunnel of East-West Metro. The portion will be closed for vehicular movement from 11 pm January 15 till 6 am on January 19. The tunnel boring work for the Metro corridor had resumed in June after remaining suspended for three months due to Covid-19-induced lockdown. While Sealdah-bound vehicles will face no restrictions, those coming from Shyambazar side in north Kolkata will be diverted from Rajabazar crossing. Once the tunnel corridor is fully functional, Metro services will link Kolkata's Salt Lake Sector V with Howrah Maidan.

Universities to trim summer vacation

The 2021 summer vacation for first-year BTech students at Calcutta University will be trimmed to compensate for the lost time in the academic period that was supposed to start in August but began digitally on last Wednesday. Jadavpur University has also decided to reduce the summer vacation to a week as BTech classes started only on January 11. The CU, however, is yet to finalise the revised duration of vacation, said an official. "The break could be reduced to seven days. Otherwise, we will not be able to start second year classes in August," said the university official.

DC locks down week before inauguration

Security beefed up as FBI warns of armed protests by Trump supporters in 50 state capitals

WASHINGTON

ALL through downtown Washington, the primary sound for several blocks was the beeping of forklifts unloading more fencing. There were no cars or scooters and seemingly no tourists on Wednesday, just the occasional jogger and multiple construction crews at work. The US Capitol that proved such a soft target last week was visible only through lines of tall, black fence.

Two blocks from the White House, a group of uniformed National Guard troops emerged from a tour bus and headed into a hotel as a state of lockdown descended on Washington that will last through the January 20 inauguration. "Clearly we are in uncharted waters," said Washington Mayor Muriel Bowser. Last weeks "violent insurrection" at the Capitol by supporters of outgoing President Donald Trump has "impacted the way we are approaching working with our federal partners in planning for the 59th inauguration," Bowser said on Wednesday.

The FBI has warned that armed protests by violent Trump supporters were being planned in all 50 state capitals as well as in Washington for the days leading up to the inauguration of President-elect Joe Biden.

Between the pandemic and the security threat, Bowser is flat-out asking people not to come to the District of Columbia for the inauguration. And at Bowsers request, a National Special Security Event declaration was moved up to January 13, a distinction which she said "puts in place an entirely different command and control structure" for security.

The NSSE status is normal for a presidential inauguration and other major events like an international summit or the Super Bowl. But it's rare to start the lockdown so far in advance of the event. Police vehicles sealed off a huge swath of downtown DC on Wednesday, causing immediate traffic snarls. Starting Wednesday, Bowser said anyone inside the inauguration perimeter might be stopped and questioned. Starting Friday, all parking garages in the downtown restricted zone will be sealed through the inauguration.

Bowser is also being pushed to deny lodging options to potentially violent protesters. The local Black Lives Matter affiliate and Shutdown DC issued a joint statement on Wednesday urging all downtown hotels to voluntarily close and pay their staffs.

In addition to the threat of violence, the activist groups say Trump supporters are a threat to the health of hotel staff for their general refusal to wear facemasks amid the pandemic. Several downtown hotels, including one which had become a favourite hangout of the militant Proud Boy faction, chose to avoid trouble by closing last week. PTI

'Hope Senate will work on other issues too'

President-elect Joe Biden expressed hope that the Senate will be able to conduct the impeachment trial of Donald Trump while working on other critical issues.

Joe Biden not to take train trip

President-elect Joe Biden will no longer be taking an Amtrak train to Washington for his inauguration because of security concerns. The President-elect's decision reflects growing worries over potential threats in the Capitol and across the US in the lead-up to the inauguration.

Trump condemns Capitol riots

Outgoing US President Donald Trump on Thursday unequivocally condemned last week's Capitol Hill riot. "Violence and vandalism have absolutely no place in our country and no place in our movement," he said.

COVID ORIGIN

13 WHO SCIENTISTS LAND IN WUHAN

BEIJING/WUHAN

THIRTEEN international experts of the WHO arrived in Wuhan on Thursday for the long-awaited probe into the origins of the deadly coronavirus pandemic, while two others did not board the flight from Singapore to the central Chinese city after they tested positive for Covid-19.

The two experts failed to clear the screening procedures and were blocked from travelling to China, the Wall Street Journal reported.

"Chinese officials involved in the screening process blocked the two delegation members from boarding their plane to the central Chinese city of Wuhan after both tested positive for Covid-19 antibodies in blood-based serology tests during transit in Singapore," the report said.

In Beijing, Chinese Foreign Ministry spokesman, Zhao Lijian defended the denial of permission to the two scientists saying that "relevant epidemic and control requirements and regulations will be strictly enforced." "We will also support and offer convenience to WHO experts' travel to China," he told a media briefing replying to a question about the denial of permission to the two scientists and referred the media to competent authorities for details.

China requires passengers flying from Singapore to take a nucleic acid test and an IgM antibody test up to two days before boarding China-bound flights.

The 13 WHO experts would go through a 14-day quarantine. They are set to interview people from research institutes, hospitals and the seafood market linked to the initial outbreak.

The WHO team includes virus and other experts from the US, Australia, Germany, Japan, Britain, Russia, the Netherlands, Qatar and Vietnam. The United States and Australia have led the charge in criticising China's handling of the initial stages of the pandemic. PTI

Uganda holds election under internet blackout

KAMPALA

UGANDANS voted on Thursday under heavy security and an internet blackout in an election pitting veteran leader Yoweri Museveni against a former popstar which sparked one of the bloodiest campaigns in years.

Voting in Kampala took place under heavy military and police presence, with no violent incidents reported by the time polling stations closed. Museveni is seeking a sixth term in office, having ruled for almost four decades, against singer-turned-MP Bobi Wine (38), whose popularity among a youthful population has rattled the former rebel leader.

After a campaign marred by arrests, bloodshed and harassment of the opposition and journalists, the internet was shut down on the eve of the election, further fuelling fears the vote would not be free and fair.

In the Kololo neighbourhood of Kampala, polling agents opened ballot boxes onto a black tarp and counted each vote aloud as tallying began. Results are expected on Saturday.

Wine said several of his party's polling agents had been arrested during the morning, as he cast his vote on the outskirts of Kampala alongside his wife before a crowd of dancing and singing supporters. "In 22 districts, our teams are on the run because they are being surrounded and pursued by police and soldiers as if they are criminals," he said.

Soldiers marched in Kamwokya, the crowded Kampala slum where Wine grew up and is hugely popular, while convoys of riot police patrolled the capital. Museveni voted in his home district of Kiruhura in rural western Uganda, about 250 km from the capital. AFP

Google cracks the whip on loan apps following outcry

Also warned apps to comply with the existing norms or face removal

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @ New Delhi

TECH giant Google said it reviewed hundreds of personal loan apps in India and those who were found violating the user safety policies were immediately removed from its Play Store. The policies that were reviewed involved tenure for repayments, annual percentage rate and disclosure of total loan costs. The move comes in the wake of users and government agencies flagging concerns in the light of recent occurrences of some lenders adopting coercive tactics for loan recovery. Google said that it will remove more lending apps from the playstore which do not comply with the applicable local laws and regulations.

"We have reviewed hundreds of personal loan apps in India, based on flags submitted by users and government agencies. The apps that were found to violate our user safety policies were immediately removed from the Store, and we have asked the developers of the remaining identified apps to demonstrate that they comply with applicable local laws and regulations. Apps that fail to do so will be removed without further notice. In addition, we will continue to assist the law enforcement agencies in their investigation of this issue," the company said in a statement.

Regarding user privacy, Google said that developers must only request permissions that are necessary to implement current features or services. "They should not use permissions that give access to user or device data for undisclosed, unimplemented, or disallowed features or purposes. Developers must also only use data for purposes that the user has consented to, and if they later want to use the data for other purposes, they must obtain user permission for the additional uses," Google stated.

On Wednesday, the Reserve Bank of India has also cracked the whip on lending platforms and digital apps. The banking regulator has constituted a working group to stipulate regulatory measures for facilitating a safer digital lending environment in the country.

Passenger vehicle sales up 14 % in Dec

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @ New Delhi

FACTORY dispatches of passenger vehicles (PV) increased 13.59 per cent to 2,52,998 units in December 2020 as against a low base of 2,22,728 units in December 2019. The growth was also boosted by spillover demand from the festive season, new car launches and a fear of price hike from January 2021.

In the October-December quarter of the current financial year (Q3 FY21), PV wholesale sales rose 14.44 per cent year-on-year to 8,97,908 units. But, the sales for April-December period are still lower by 16 per cent after Covid-induced disruptions severely impacted the sector in the first two quarters.

SIAM President Kenichi Ayukawa said passenger vehicle and two-wheeler segments in the third quarter have shown some recovery, while commercial vehicle and three-wheeler segments were still in the negative zone. "However, the third-quarter numbers could include an element of deferred demand for the first quarter. If we look at the cumulative numbers of the nine-month period from April to December 2020, it shows that sales of all segments are still behind by many years," added Ayukawa.

According to official data, PV sales between April-December FY21 at 17,77,874 units (-16.06 per cent) is at its lowest in 10 years while two-wheeler sales at 10,765,788 units (-22.63 per cent) during this period is at its lowest in 7 years.

Siam data also revealed that industry growth (CAGR) over the last five years has fallen drastically. Going ahead, Siam said the outlook remains uncertain and dynamic as the country is still in the middle of a pandemic. The industry is also facing a shortage of semiconductors, steel and shipping containers leading to shortage in production and exports.

In the two-wheeler segment, sales went up by 7.42 per cent to 11,27,917 units in December 2020, compared to 10,50,038 last year, showed Siam data. Two-wheeler sales during the quarter under review rose 13.37 per cent to 47,82,110 units. Gems & jewellery exports grow 6.33 % to $2.49 bn

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @ Chennai

EXPORTS of gems and jewellery has registered a growth of 6.33 per cent to $2.49 billion during December 2020 as compared to $2.35 billion in the corresponding month of 2019, a senior GJEPC official said. In rupee terms, the sector grew by 9.2 per cent in December 2020 to ₹18,261 crore.

"Exports have recovered sharply in the last two months and if the trend continues the decline in this fiscal year may narrow down to 20-25 per cent," said Gem & Jewellery Export Promotion Council (GJEPC) chairman Colin Shah. In the early months of the fiscal, the sector was down by 80 per cent.

Budget expectation

GJEPC has proposed a hike in import duty on synthetic cut and polished stones to 25 per cent from 5 per cent, reduce the customs duty to 4 per cent and extend the EMI facility.

The overall gross exports of the sector remained down by 39.98 per cent to $16.53 billion during April-December 2020 period as compared to $27.54 billion during the same period last year. Cut and polished diamond (CPD) exports in December 2020 posted a sharp jump by 38.47 per cent to $1.74 billion as compared to $1.25 billion in the previous years corresponding month. While, for the nine months period CPD exports stayed negative by 27.13 per cent to $10.69 billion.

Gold jewellery exports for the month under review was lower by 35.06 per cent to $0.50 billion compared to $0.77 billion in December 2019. For the April-December period gold jewellery exports were down 67.3 per cent to $3.02 billion from $9.23 billion for the first nine months of the previous year, the GJEPC chairman said. However, silver jewellery exports from April-December 2020 stayed robust growing 50.66 per cent to $1.5 billion over the previous fiscal.

For the upcoming budget, the industry has sought reduction in customs duty gold to four per cent from the current 12.5 per cent, withdrawal of tax collected at source (TCS), cut in import duty on polished precious and semi-precious gemstones as well as raise cash purchase limit to ₹1 lakh.

WPI inflation eases to 1.22%, a 4-month low

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @ New Delhi

INDIA's wholesale price inflation softened to a four-month low of 1.22 per cent in December from 1.55 per cent in November as food items entered the deflationary zone. According to data released by the Ministry of Commerce and Industry on Thursday, prices of food articles fell 1.11 per cent after rising 3.94 per cent last month.

Prices of non-food articles rose 3.13 per cent against a rise of 8.43 per cent in the previous month. Manufactured items saw inflation jumping to 4.24 per cent in December from 2.97 per cent the previous month.

However, core WPI inflation (which does not include food and fuel items) rose to a two-year high of 4.2 per cent and experts say, this may prevent the RBI from further rate cut.

"The rise in core WPI inflation could add to upside pressure on core CPI inflation. However, excess capacity conditions will limit pass-through to retail prices," said Gaura Sen Gupta, economist at IDFC First Bank. Data released last week showed retail inflation falling to 4.59 per cent in December from 6.93 per cent in November that brought the CPI back within the Monetary Policy Committee's target range of 2-6 per cent for the first time since March 2020. The next MPC meeting is scheduled from February 3-5.

Realty body Naredco seeks tax rationalisation

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @ New Delhi

REAL estate body NAREDCO has sought further rationalisation of taxes, focus on affordable housing and liquidity measures for the sector in the upcoming budget.

Rajeev Talwar, chairman, NAREDCO said on Thursday that interest on housing loans should be fully allowed under Income Tax Deduction without any ceiling. "The current limit of interest deduction under Section 24 of IT Act 1961 on housing loan of ₹2 lakh should be removed to incentivise home buyers and spurring overall demand. Also, loss from house property should be fully allowed to be adjusted against other heads of income. In case of unadjusted loss, it should be fully allowed to be carried forward to subsequent years."

The Reserve Bank of India, through a notification in 2017, allowed a loan to-value ratio (LTV) of up to 90 per cent for home loans for affordable houses of ₹30 lakh or less. Same facility should be permitted for other housing including Middle Income Group (MIG) and Higher Income Group (HIG) as well, added Talwar. According to Naredco, two segments of housing — rental and affordable — need impetus in this budget. For rental housing, enhancement in HRA Tax Exemption; an increased depreciation rate for the rental projects like in commercial buildings and allowing carry on of loss from rental income will make a difference.

Women's share in urban labour force just at 10.3%

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @ Bengaluru

THE participation of women in the labour market continues to be dismal at 10.3 per cent, according to a latest survey by the Initiative for What Works to Advance Women and Girls in the Economy (IWWAGE), a Bill and Melinda Gates Foundation grant-holder. The report suggested that around 90 per cent of the women who are aged 15 or more in urban India are not employed, neither are they actively seeking employment. It added that the Covid-19 and subsequent lockdowns impacted the labour market, but had a devastating impact on employment opportunities for women. Nearly 71 per cent of the women in urban areas and 58 per cent of women in rural areas, as per the survey, had no written job contract, and over half of the salaried women workers across rural and urban geographies were not eligible for paid leaves and any social security benefits. While it is easier to track the economic status of women in the formal sector, the majority of India's female workforce is engaged in the informal sector.

IWWAGE also noted that women are able to dedicate only 5.8 hours a day on average to their home-based businesses, which is intermittently interrupted by 6.6 hours of unpaid caregiving work. Amongst women entrepreneurs nearly 79 per cent said that they witnessed low sales and reduced customer footfall during 2020. Notably, at a time when digital adoption in the country is at an all-time high, a huge gender gap exists when it comes to acess of mobile phones/ internet in the country. The report by IWWAGE noted that there is a 20 per cent gender gap in the mobile ownership in India with 79 per cent of men owning a mobile as opposed to 63 per cent women.

DURING the dog days of winter when the Indian team were playing the white-ball leg of the series in Australia, the contests were, in the absence of a proper phrase, too friendly. It was termed as the 'Friendship Series' in some quarters. Even if the phraseology was a direct result of Cricket Australia (CA) thanking 'friends at BCCI' for the tour to go ahead during a pandemic, the jovial nature of the contests belied expectations.

That two of the most competitive sides in world cricket could play cricket in a fun, jovial, almost relaxed environment seemed preposterous. Where was that Australian aggression? Where was Virat Kohli's firebrand persona? This very assessment was aired on Fox Cricket during the second ODI. After a full toss struck Aaron Finch flush on the stomach, KL Rahul gave the Australian skipper a sort of playful belly rub. On air, Kerry O'Keefee, perhaps jokingly, wanted an 'incident'. "This series is too friendly," he said. "We need an incident. Everybody is smiling, come."

A few weeks on from that, the series — on its home stretch — has finally had its lighting the blue touch paper moment. On a crazy, somewhat surreal final day of the third Test in Sydney, words were spilled, abuses were hurled and pleasantries were exchanged as the visitors reverse engineered their way to one of their greatest overseas draws to keep the series tied at 1-1 with one to play. That they drew the Test while also being allegedly subject to racist chant makes it all the more remarkable. Throw in the fact that the Indian team is reportedly quarantining in a Brisbane hotel without even amenities, the gloves are well and truly off ahead of the final Test beginning on Friday. It is why the denouement promises to be every bit as gripping. Saying all that, there are a number of issues that will hold centre-stage between now and Friday morning. For the Indians, it will be about naming a competent XI, while maintaining the balance of the squad. With Jasprit Bumrah and Ravindra Jadeja out, the bowling as the middle-order batting will weaken.

What they will seek to retain is the positives of the Sydney Test. The openers — Shubman Gill and Rohit Sharma — excelled and they will likely not change that combination. Rishabh Pant's promotion with the bat was an inspired choice and they may well look to keep him there for this Test. He meets fire with fire and that could be a positive in this pitch, which traditionally tends to bounce all over the place.

For Australia, there has been a change at the top of the batting order. With Will Pucovski getting ruled out, Marcus Harris has been recalled. whie David Warner is still not a 100 % which would be a concern.

That's before you come to their lead bowlers who have all done a lot of bowling. Pat Cummins, for instance, has sent down more than 110 overs in a little less than a month. That is a punishing schedule for anybody. Even if their bodies have taken a pounding, they will all be ready for one final push.

In a press conference on Wednesday, Justin Langer said it could all come down to the survival of the fittest. Even if India are worse for the wear, they have the 'fresher' bowling line-up. Even if Australia are the more experienced — eight of Australia's XI in the third Test played more than 20 Tests compared to India's five (this number will further come down) — they will feel the pressure to perform at a venue they have not lost since 1988.

Tale of India's walking wounded

There won't be a Ravindra Jadeja and Jasprit Bumrah on one of the most difficult tracks in world cricket and it couldn't have gotten more worse for India. And insult to injury is Mayank Agarwal being hit on the forearm in the nets and Ashwin battling back spasms.

> With or without injuries, the eleven that India will put up will be the best eleven on the ground and all of them deserve to be there. All of them deserve the opportunity to play Test cricket
>
> Vikram Rathour, India batting coach

> We love playing here, and one of the main reasons is because of that wicket. This is a good place to come and play, because I don't have to go and look at it, I know what is going to be like

> Tim Paine, Australia captain

SYED MUSHTAQ ALI TROPHY

Kerala coach Tinu urges caution with Azharuddeen

MARTIN JOSEPH @ Kochi

WHEN Mohammed Azharuddeen and Sachin Baby were at the crease for Kerala against Mumbai at the Wankhede Stadium on Wednesday during their Syed Mushtaq Ali Trophy match, social media was abuzz with amusing observations about how it felt like a throwback to the 90s with 'Sachin and Azhar' at the crease.

Azharuddeen's whirlwind 54-ball 137 which was the second-fastest hundred in the competition thrust him into national recognition overnight, even though he has been a part of the domestic circuit for the past five years.

And Azharuddeen's claim to fame is no longer thanks to him sharing the same name as former India captain Mohammed Azharuddin but for those who know the 26-year-old closely, the wicket-keeper batsman is a special talent who is finally getting the opportunities he deserves.

Kerala head coach Tinu Yohannan knows all about being in the spotlight all of a sudden. He was the first cricketer from Kerala to play for India and he urges caution when it comes to putting too much pressure on Azharuddeen after one innings.

> We have told him to stay grounded and try to limit his social media usage for some time. Finding yourself in the middle of so much hysteria can be unsettling and we don't want him to lose focus.
>
> Tinu Yohannan, Kerala coach

"We have told him to stay grounded and try to limit his social media usage for some time. Finding yourself in the middle of so much hysteria can be unsettling and we don't want him to lose focus. What Azhar did on Wednesday was play a one of a kind innings and we can't expect him to keep playing like that every single game. There are a lot of senior players in the team to guide him and we want to be careful with him," said Yohannan. While Yohannan doesn't want to put pressure on the wicket-keeper batsman, his eldest brother Kamaruddeen who was the one behind naming him Azharuddeen believes that this is just a start. "So many people were telling us that some of his shots were just like Azhar and he was playing some of them even better," said Kamaruddeen.

In the first match against Puducherry, he had made 30 from 18 balls.

Padikkal shines in K'taka win

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE

AFTER an impressive outing in the IPL, Devdutt Padikkal has grown in confidence as was shown in Karnataka's match against Tripura in Alur on Thursday. Though the southpaw missed his ton by a single run, his innings played an important role in Karnataka's ten run victory.

Karnataka scored 167/5, and Tripura came close with the brilliance of MB Mura Singh, who scored 33-ball 61, but it was not enough.

Padikkal and Rohan Kadam gave their team a good start with an opening stand of 62 runs, but rest of the batsmen did not show much support to the former as Karnataka lost wickets at regular intervals. The likes of Karun Nair, KL Shrijith and Aniruddha Joshi did not make good contributions to the team total.

Besides Padikkal's unbeaten 99, rest of the players only managed 64 runs. However, Karnataka were in the driving seat with their bowlers delivering the goods in the first half of the second innings. After Abhimanyu Mithun scalped AA Sinha in the first over, Tripura were tottering at 68/4 and one thought it would be a cake walk. But, an unbeaten 89-run partnership between Mura and RA Dey threatened to rob Karnataka of two points. Despite the valiant effort, Tripura fell short at the end.

Third straight win for TN

Tamil Nadu got their third successive win as they beat Odisha by eight wickets in Kolkata. Murugan Ashwin scalped three wickets to contain Odisha to 132/9 and a 38-ball 61 from Narayan Jagadeesan ensured Tamil Nadu coasted home.

Bengal win easy

Bengal beat Hyderabad by six wickets as Ishan Porel and Akash Deep stole the show with four wickets each in Kolkata. Hyderabad were bundled out for 157 runs and folded quickly.

Brief scores: Karnataka: 167/5 in 20 overs (Devdutt Padikkal 99 n.o, Rana Datta 2/41) beat Tripura: 157/4 in 20 overs [MB Mura Singh 61 n.o] by 10 runs; Odisha 132/9 in 20 overs (M Ashwin 3/16), lost to Tamil Nadu 136/2 (N Jagadeesan 61); Hyderabad 157 (Varma 50, Agarwal 27, Porel 4/24, Akash Deep 4/35) lost to Bengal (Goswami 69, Chatterjee 39)

Saina Nehwal

Indian shuttlers out of Thai Open

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE

INDIA'S campaign in the Thailand Open came to a disappointing end, with all the remaining shuttlers exiting the competition, on Thursday. If Saina Nehwal lost in three games, Kidambi Srikanth pulled out due to calf muscle strain. The men's doubles pair of Satwiksairaj Rankireddy and Chirag Shetty and the mixed doubles pairing of Satwik and Ashwini Ponnappa also lost their respective matches.

Saina did get off to a good start in her second round match against Thailand's Busanan Ongbamrungphan, winning the first game. But things did not go according to plan for her, losing the next two. Despite fighting hard, she finished second best, 23-21 14-21 16-21. It was even more disappointing for Srikanth, who had to give a walkover to Lee Zii Jia. "Very sad to let you all know that I have been advised to pull out of the Thailand Open due to a calf muscle strain. I am hoping to be fit by next week for the next round of the Thailand leg," Srikanth wrote on Twitter.

In the doubles competition, the men's pair were outplayed by the second seed pairing from Indonesia of Mohammad Ahsan and Hendra Setiawan. Satwik and Shetty lost in straight sets, 19-21 17-21 while in mixed doubles, Satwik and Ashwini failed to get past Chang Tak Ching and Ng Wing Yung, who won the contest in straight games, 12-21 17-21 .

'Lobera's attacking philosophy suits me'

AYANTAN CHOWDHURY
@ New Delhi

NOBODY will forget the wonder goal Vignesh Dakshinamurthy scored for Mumbai City FC against Hyderabad FC in December last year. The commentators went crazy and all articles were full of praise for the youngster from Karnataka. In fact, he had become the only ISL player in the 2019-20 season to hail from Bengaluru. The 22-year-old is playing more regularly under Sergio Lobera and himself admits his confidence level has increased as has his understanding of his role within the team. This daily caught up with the 22-year-old and spoke on a variety of topics including that goal! Excerpts...

How has it been like working under Lobera? Compared to previous managers you have played under, what does he do differently?

My aim has always been to learn from all coaches I have worked under and during my time here, I have learnt different perspectives and every small detail has made my all-round game better. But coach Lobera's attacking philosophy suits me a lot. Even from the left wing back position, I have been given the freedom to get forward and support the attack and that style suits me.

The style of play employed by MCFC this year is quite fascinating to watch. What is it like as a player? Demanding the ball, ability to pass all the time, not being afraid while in possession, are these things difficult to grasp?

Not only in football, but also in life, understanding the job is the most difficult part and once you have mastered it, the rest is easy. The philosophy and style the coach wants us to play in is really attractive to watch, and the entire team loves to play this way and that has really benefited us so far.

From Ozone in Bengaluru to top of the ISL table with MCFC, how has the journey been?

The journey has been nice but it is just the start. I have believed in my abilities but I have never done anything special. The aim has always been to keep improving, keep learning, and never giving up. That is something I have maintained throughout my career and the goal is always the same, no matter the team.

DANGEROUS JUNKYARD IN SKY

Pieces of unwanted debris left by humans in low-Earth orbit have become the equivalent of a 'new drifting island of plastic' in outer space, an expert has warned. A look at why space junk is a real threat...

WHAT IS SPACE JUNK?

Space junk or space debris is any piece of machinery or debris left by humans in space. It can refer to big objects such as dead satellites that have failed or been left in orbit at the end of their mission. It could even be smaller things like bits of debris or paint flecks that have fallen off a rocket

128 mn

SCIENTSITS ESTIMATE 128 PIECES OF SPACE DEBRIS THAT ARE LARGER THAN 1MM, ARE DANGEROUS AS THEY MOVE IN HIGH VELOCITY

Why is it a problem?

- Fragments of space debris as small as 1cm have the potential to completely destroy satellites because of the speed at which they are travelling
- Artificial satellites are used in communications, such as satellite television and phone calls, and navigation, which includes the Global Positioning System (GPS). These types of spacecraft also play a role in weather forecasting, tracking storms and pollution and astronomy

Experts warn

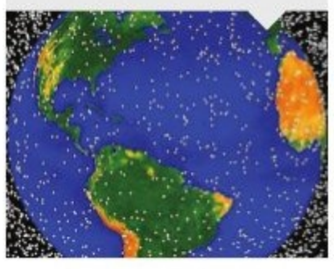
Now, Ekaterini Kavvada, the directorate general of Defence Industry and Space at the European Commission, has warned that this space junk is 'not a theoretical threat but a reality' – similar to the threat posed by floating islands of plastic in the Earth's oceans. She added that the debris could cause damage to active European and other satellites, adding that if we do not react in a safe and timely way, the consequences will be detrimental

Two events that worsened the problem

- The first was in February 2009, when an Iridium telecoms satellite and Kosmos-2251, a Russian military satellite, accidentally collided
- The second was in January 2007, when China tested an anti-satellite weapon on an old Fengyun weather satellite

How much debris in space?

Scientific models estimate there are more than 128 million pieces of space debris that are larger than 1mm, and 34,000 pieces larger than 10cm. But only 22,000 are tracked, and with the fragments able to travel at speeds above 16,777 mph, even tiny pieces could seriously damage or destroy satellites



How can we clean up space junk?

The UN ask that all companies remove their satellites from orbit within 25 years after the end of their mission. This is tricky to enforce, though, because satellites can fail. To tackle this problem, several companies in the world have come up with novel solution

2000

Since Jan 2019, there have been more than 5,000 satellites in space, but only 2,000 are still active

Two sites that became worryingly cluttered

1. One is low Earth orbit which is used by satnav satellites, the ISS, China's manned missions and the Hubble telescope, among others
2. The other is in geostationary orbit, and is used by communications, weather and surveillance satellites that must maintain a fixed position relative to Earth

Orbiting space debris has become the new drifting island of plastic – if I had to make the comparison – that poses a looming threat for the safety and the security of all the traffic and space sustainability. Hopefully — and this is why we cross our fingers every day — those satellites may be able to de-orbit and mostly burn up in the atmosphere, when their useful life is finished

Global mistrust could weigh on vaccine rollout

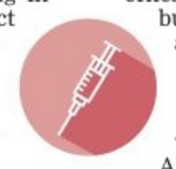
Survey suggests only one-third willing to take vaccine immediately; 2/3 within a year

HEALTH

WASHINGTON: Waning trust in governments and all types of media is threatening to limit the rollout of coronavirus vaccines around the world, particularly in the US, according to a survey conducted by communications firm Edelman.

In an annual assessment on the state of trust in institutions, the firm found that this 'infodemic' is breeding mistrust that could make longer the path out from the pandemic. "This is the era of information bankruptcy,' said Richard Edelman, CEO of Edelman.

He said last week's storming of the Capitol building in Washington and the fact that only a third of people are willing to get a COVID-19 vaccine straight away 'crystallise the dangers of misinformation".



The firm found scepticism over vaccines remains a major hurdle for their successful rollout. Across the 28 countries assessed, it found that as of November only a little below two-thirds of respondents said they would be willing to take the vaccine within a year.

That hesitancy was most prevalent in Russia, with just 15% of people surveyed willing to get vaccinated as soon as possible and only a further 25% comfortable with the idea of doing so within a year.

In the US, it found a total of 59% of people were willing to get vaccinated within a year with just 33% happy to do so as soon as possible. The highest levels of trust were recorded in India, with 51% looking forward to taking up the vaccine opportunity immediately and a further 29% within a year, for a total of 80%.

Governments and health practitioners around the world will be hoping that sceptics will be won over by a smooth rollout of the vaccines. Britain became last month the first country to approve for use the vaccine created by American pharmaceutical company Pfizer and German company BioNTech. Other countries have started using it too while other vaccines have also been authorised. Despite the seeming hesitancy over vaccines, Edelman found that businesses have emerged as the most trusted institution partly because of the speed at which they 'proactively' developed vaccines in record time.

Also boosting trust has been their ability to find ways to work during the coronavirus restrictions. Business is trusted by some 61% of respondents, replacing the government in top spot, which fell from its mid-year top spot and is currently at 53%.

"The events of this past year reinforced business' responsibility to lead on societal issues such as upskilling workers and racial justice,' said Edelman.

The firm found that trust in governments has fallen sharply since the middle of 2020 when people rallied around their politicians in the early months of the pandemic. Since then, trust has fallen sharply, particularly in US and China.

Rare Tintin art set to sell for millions

ART

PARIS: Not even the coronavirus can get in the way of intrepid Belgian reporter and comic book legend Tintin.

Comic book lovers and tourists alike can catch a socially distanced glimpse of a Tintin drawing by Herge in Paris before it goes under the hammer Thursday, estimated to sell between 2 and 3 million euros and possibly break the record for the most expensive comic book art in history.

The 1936 work in Chinese ink, gouache and watercolor, was destined as a cover for The Blue Lotus, the fifth volume of the Belgian journalist's adventures. But it never sat on any book store shelves because it was rejected for being too expensive to reproduce on a wide scale — a victim of its own rare craftsmanship.

'They had to do a four colour process printing, so an additional colour and (the publisher) thought that the comic albums were already expensive and reproducing this cover would increase the production costs,' said comics expert Eric Leroy at Art Curial auction house by Champs-Elysees. As the name Blue Lotus suggests, the art work places Tintin in Asia. A huge red dragon appears on a black background by the Belgian reporter's petrified face. It is a prized addition to the universe of Tintin.

In Blue Lotus, Tintin travels to China during the 1931 Japanese invasion to investigate and expose — along with his dog Snowy — Japanese spy networks, drug-smuggling rings and other crimes. But the huge interest in this work has raised a host of questions among French media regarding the work's provenance — whether it was a gift to the son of Tintin's printer or a drawing simply never returned to the artist.

Forest loss bigger than Germany

ENVIRONMENT

PARIS: More than 43 million hectares of forest – an area bigger than Germany -- have been lost in a little over a decade in just a handful of deforestation hotspots, conservation organisation WWF said Wednesday.

Swathes of forest continue to be flattened each year -- mainly due to industrial-scale agriculture – as biodiversity-rich areas are cleared.

Analysis by WWF found that just 29 sites across South America, Africa and South East Asia were responsible for more than half of the global forest loss.

Washing clothes adds to plastic woes

ENVIRONMENT

PARIS: Households in Europe and North America are flooding the oceans with plastic pollution simply by washing their clothes, scientists have said after research found the majority of microplastics in Arctic seawater were polyester fibres.

Plastic particles have infiltrated even the most remote regions of the planet. These tiny fragments have been discovered inside fish in the deepest recesses of the ocean peppering Arctic sea ice and blanketing the snows on the Pyrenees mountains between France and Spain.

But questions remain over where this plastic contamination is coming from. In a new study by the Ocean Wise conservation group and Canada's Department of Fisheries and Oceans, researchers sampled seawater from across the Arctic and found synthetic fibres made up around 92 per cent of microplastic pollution.

ALL IN THE DNA

'Game of Thrones' dire wolves far apart from other canines

GENETICS

PARIS: Prehistoric dire wolves made famous by the TV series "Game of Thrones" prowled the Earth for thousands of years before being wiped out at the end of the Ice Age.

Known as Canis dirus -- "fearsome dog" – they hunted down and feasted on large mammals, so when species such as giant bison went extinct dire wolves lacked prey, contributing to their decline.

But a study published Wednesday in Nature points to another reason the top predators may have died out around 12,000 years ago after lording over the food chain for nearly a quarter of a millennium -- their inability to breed with other wolf species.

Anatomical similarities had led scientists to suggest that grey wolves and dire wolves could be close enough genetically to produce offspring, as did modern humans and Neanderthals.

"Our genetic results show these two species of wolf are much more like distant cousins, like humans and chimpanzees," said co-lead author Kieren Mitchell from Australian Adelaide University.

Mitchell and his team sequenced the DNA from five fossil dire wolf bones ranging from 50,000-12,900 years old. The authors found dire wolves last shared a common ancestor with other wolf-like canines around 5.7 million years ago, also the approximate date for the last common ancestor for chimps and humans.
